Beleaguered Fortress Braces for 'Last Stand'

Fall of Dien Bien Phu Feared by Washington

HANOI, Indo-China (UP)—The Communists poured reinforcements into the blood-soaked valley of Dien Bien Phu today and claimed they were within 400 yards of the fortress' command post.

French officers admitted the Communists were closer to Dien Bien Phu's nerve centre than at any time during the 55-day-old siege.

(Peiping radio claimed today that 10,000 Viet Namese troops fighting alongside the French in Indo-China had surrendered to Ho Chi Minh's forces.)

French spirits received a boost with reports a second American airlift of French reinforcements was en route to Indo-China. The reports originated in Wiesbaden, Germany, Tuesday, and an official in Colombo, Ceylon, said the planes were expected. He did not say when.

Communist shells hammered the fortress throughout the night but they did not renew the human sea assaults that has turned the valley into a graveyard for thousands of rebel dead.

The rebels regrouped under cover of night at the stronghold they seized Tuesday and held against a determined attack by the French Foreign Legion. And as they did so Brig. Gen. Christian de Castries deployed his dwindling forces for the expected "final" attack.

A French spokesman said the Viet Minh rebels suffered "extremely heavy" losses in overrunning the western French strongpoint Tuesday morning.

The enemy threw two regiments, or approximately 4,000 men, into the attack, the French spokesman said. The defending forces were composed of a single company of French and Viet Namese soldiers.

FRENCH WALLOW IN 'MUDBATH'

HANOI (AP)—A French high command spokesman said Brig.-Gen. Christian de Castries' forces now are encamped in a giant mudbath as a result of the rains.

De Castries asked his wife by radio Tuesday night to send him a pair of rubber boots by parachute.

The stronghold looks down on Dien Bien Phu's parachute drop zone and on French headquarters. It is just southwest of the airstrip De Castries must hold if he is to receive more supplies by air.

Bad weather during the night kept French planes out of the skies—it has been raining steadily since Sunday—and military sources said with the onset of the monsoon rebel Gen. Vo Nguyen Giap must make his all-out effort some time this week.

Unless he does, French sources said, he cannot supply his 40,000-man army surrounding Dien Bien Phu.

But time also was running out for De Castries, whose air shield has been missing since the rebels began the May Day assault. A major paratroop drop announced by the high command still has not been made.

U.S. Tries to Determine Effects

WASHINGTON (UP) — The capital is bracing itself for the probable fall of Dien Bien Phu and is trying feverishly to determine what the effects may be, not only in Indo-China but throughout Asia and Europe.

What has turned into the biggest battle of the eight-year war was to be an important part of French Gen. Henri-Eugene Navarre's plan for defeating the Reds. American officials supported the plan with military equipment and confidently predicted eventual military victory over the Communists in Indo-China.

Against the background, it will be hard to put a good face on the loss of Dien Bien Phu, if the beleaguered "fortress" finally succumbs.

American authorities argue that, on military grounds alone, the stronghold itself is not too important. The French certainly would remain strong in Indo-China without the garrison, which authorities say involves no more than 5 per cent of the high command's total strength.

But military factors cannot be viewed apart from the psychological and political aspects. Adm. Arthur W. Radford, chairman of the joint chiefs of staff, has said on that score that the loss of Dien Bien Phu "would affect millions of Asiatics who are wavering on the fence . . . These effects are almost beyond calculation." There is similar American apprehension about the morale effects in France and the shot-in-the-arm a victory would give the Reds at Geneva.

Southeast Asia Pact Under Way Says Eisenhower

Could Have Bearing On Geneva Parley

WASHINGTON (CP) — President Eisenhower said today the proposed southeast Asia security pact now is "in process of formation."

In a statement read to his weekly press conference, the president announced that the countries of the Indo-China area now are "thinking in constructive terms, which include the indispensible concept of collective security."

"Progress in this matter has been considerable and I am convinced that further progress will continue to be made."

The president said the fact that a southeast Asia security arrangement "is in process of formation could have an important bearing upon what happens at Geneva during the Indo-China phase of the conference."

Eisenhower declared his unqualified support for State Secretary Dulles and for Dulles' efforts to form a united front against communism in southeast Asia.

DULLES RETURNS

The press conference followed a meeting between Eisenhower and Dulles following which the secretary said he does not know of any basis for the idea that he suffered a diplomatic defeat at the Geneva conference.

The secretary returned Tuesday night from the Geneva sessions and made a report to Eisenhower today on his efforts there to find peace for Asia and a way to save Indo-China from Communist conquest.

A reporter told Dulles the idea had been advanced that he suffered a "major diplomatic defeat" in the meetings with the Soviet and Chinese Communist leaders at Geneva.

His reply was that "I don't understand what's happened there at Geneva which is alleged to constitute the defeat."

Dulles seemed in good spirits and was chuckling as he gave his reply.

UNEMPLOYED MINERS MARCH ON OTTAWA

OTTAWA (CP)—Parliament Hill's centre block today was picketed by a placard-carrying delegation calling on the federal government for action against unemployment.

About 100 workers marched back and forth across the main entrance to the Parliament building while leaders sought interviews with Prime Minister St. Laurent, cabinet ministers and heads of opposition groups.

They were from southern Ontario and the hard-rock mining area around Sudbury, Ont.

A couple of RCMP constables watched the marchers, without interfering.

Plan Devised to Stop Closing of Fire Hall

City Council 'Cut Cost' Ultimatum Brings City Manager-Union Action

The city fire department's budget may be cut without closing a fire hall.

A new plan to meet city council's "cut, or close" ultimatum to Fire Chief Frank Briers was threshed out this morning at a three-way conference in city hall.

Details were not revealed. The proposals will be laid before the mayor and aldermen Thursday afternoon.

The plan, devised by City Manager Wyatt, Fire Chief Briers, and firemen's union representatives, must reduce the $443,794 budget by $15,000.

Speculation is that three firemen will be dismissed, reducing brigade strength to 85; $3,700 worth of new equipment will be foregone, and the firemen will give up, for this year, their right to new $6,500 worth of issue clothing.

Council ordered the $15,000 cut because a conciliation board award boosted firemen's wages $14,205.

Council argued for an hour Tuesday afternoon about the fire department budget before ordering City Manager Cecil Wyatt and Fire Chief Frank Briers to bring in a recommendation.

Fire Chief Briers pleaded against cutting the force. He said the department was operating now on "a bare minimum" and was "far below" the standard recommended by B.C. Fire Underwriters.

MAYOR'S VIEWS

The mayor declared: "I think there ought to be a reduction so far as men are concerned."

He felt that since the men had brought about the increased expense by asking for higher wages the way to offset the increase was by reducing their numbers.

"I think it's all wrong. I think it's selfish and as far as I'm concerned I'm against it," he said.

He favored closing the James Bay Hall because "we have certain additional fire-fighting apparatus in the harbor which we didn't have two years ago."

The mayor insisted: "The waterfront is the heart of the city. Surely with this magnificent support in the harbor the fire hall can look after the one or two homes that catch fire. I think we've got too much fire protection. I say cut it off."

Four days of budget-trimming have cut $126,503 from the city's $7,000,000 budget, reducing the indicated tax rate to 54.25 mills.

The provisional rate was 56.5 mills.

Present indications are the 1954 rate will be about 55, a mill below 1953's tax levy.

Budgets of two major departments—fire and police—still are to be finalized.

C.O.L. INDEX UP FIRST TIME IN 6 MONTHS

OTTAWA (BUP)—The cost of living for Canadian city dwellers pushed the consumer price index from 115.5 to 115.6 in March, the Bureau of Statistics reported today.

It was the first increase shown by the cost of living yardstick since last October.

The bureau said it was mainly due to advances in the cost of clothing, household operation and other commodities and services which overbalanced lower food costs.

Fraser Four Feet Off Flow

VANCOUVER (BUP) — The unpredictable Fraser River showed a sharp drop today despite a record snow pack in the coast mountains and authorities expressed new fear that the Fraser Valley was facing its most serious flood threat since 1948.

The level of the river dropped to 3.48 feet from 4.65 feet Tuesday, compared to the normal level of about eight feet for this time of year.

Authorities pointed out that the normal spring run-off was being held in the mountains by cool weather and that a sudden turn to hot weather would send water cascading out of control into the main channel.

(See story, page 17.)

Miners Trapped

GROSSETO, Italy (UP)—Rescue workers dug feverishly through tons of rock today in a desperate effort to reach 20 to 50 miners believed trapped 1,000 feet underground by a gas explosion.

U.S. 'SPY' EJECTED FROM SENATE PROBE

WASHINGTON (AP)—Capitol police removed from the McCarthy-Army hearings today a spectator who burst into loud laughter during the testimony and thumbed his nose at Senator Joseph McCarthy.

The man, who identified himself as Arthur Perfit of New York, told officers: "I am a spy—a spy for the United States."

Air Safety Procedures Up for Review

OTTAWA (BUP) — Trade Minister C. D. Howe told Parliament today that safety procedures of both the Trans-Canada Air Lines and the Royal Canadian Air Force were being reviewed as a result of the April 8 North Star-Harvard collision over Moose Jaw, Sask.

Howe said preliminary reports of investigations into the crash by TCA, the RCAF and the department of transport were in agreement on details of the crash, but that it would take further study of the reports to make final decisions.

The pilots of both aircraft were experienced and both planes were in good mechanical condition with working communications systems. It was apparent, he said, that neither pilot saw the other plane, although both should have been able to do so.

Howe said that the RCAF would pay claims for damages on the ground as the result of the crash, in which 37 persons lost their lives. TCA would pay claims on the lives of the passengers, and RCAF and TCA would later settle accounts between them, Howe said.

Not Guilty Plea

VANCOUVER (BUP)—Salesman Richard John Ford pleaded not guilty to a charge of murder in connection with the death of Grace Irene Hunter when he appeared in Assize Court today.

Ford was charged with performing an abortion of Mrs. Hunter last February 19 which resulted in her death.

GUETTEL SAYS 'WE'LL KEEP COMING'

Big Kamloops Crowd Gives Lie To End of Ballet in Small Cities

'If We're Dead We Won't Lie Down'

Reports of the "death" of the Royal Winnipeg Ballet, as far as smaller communities are concerned, appear to be premature.

"If we're dead, we certainly won't lie down," Henry Guettel, general manager of the company, said in Victoria today.

Referring to suggestions the RWB would play only larger cities in the future, because of increasing costs, Mr. Guettel said:

"It will be a dark day indeed when top ballet companies can't come into communities the size of Victoria. And much smaller ones, too.

"It might be necessary to cut down a bit, to play in smaller centres. But every effort will always be made to bring ballet to all those communities that want it."

Mr. Guettel pointed out "reasonably good" advance sales are necessary to indicate the community's interest in ballet. "But it will always be our objective to take ballet into small centres," he said.

On Tuesday Ed Mallek, a member of the Kiwanis Club committee in charge of the Ballet's appearances at the Royal Theatre tonight and Thursday, expressed the view the current visit is "definitely the last" of a top-flight company here.

In Mr. Mallek's opinion, ballet in Canada is coming of age, "is maturing," and for that reason smaller centres such as Victoria will be left out in the cold. He said increased costs necessitate booking larger cities for longer periods.

CAN BE DONE

Mr. Guettel agreed that rising costs present a tremendous problem. "We are in the red, and we need financial help," he said. "But it is possible to make a successful tour of smaller centres."

He referred to the Royal Winnipeg Ballet's recent tour of the United States, in which all but two of 35 one-night stands were in small communities.

In the five week's tour, the company took only two days off, and presented performances on all the other days. "Thus we were able to make a few dollars on the tour," he said.

Prior to arriving here, the company played to a capacity audience in Kamloops, and made money there. The current western Canadian tour, he believes, will end "in the black," because of the great number of bookings.

"Where ballet is going in the future, nobody knows," he admitted. "Artistically and institutionally, the Royal Winnipeg Ballet is on the ascendence. We have had great critical and public encouragement. We have had no financial aid from civic or provincial governments, and so far have been supported by many small donations, mainly from Winnipeg."

IT'S 'NOW OR NEVER' FOR U.S. ON SEAWAY

WASHINGTON (AP)—The United States House of Representatives opens debate today on the first St. Lawrence seaway bill to reach its floor in the nearly 20 years the international project has been proposed in legislation.

The U.S. Senate has already passed the measure which would authorize U.S. participation with Canada.

House leaders have called for a vote on the proposal Thursday, and the tally will amount to a "now or never" decision as far as U.S. participation is concerned.

Canada has officially stated that she will build the seaway by herself on the Canadian side of the St. Lawrence if the U.S. legislation fails in Congress this year.

Attempted Paraguay Army Coup Frustrated

BUENOS AIRES (CP) — An attempted military coup in Paraguay today was frustrated, an Asuncion radio report said.

Reports from persons arriving in Argentina today from Asuncion said the presidential cavalry guard rebelled against the government and that the chief of police was killed in a skirmish.

The broadcast said a cavalry division attempted the revolt and that other troops and police had rallied to the defense of the administration.

The broadcast was made by radio Teleco of Asuncion, the capital.

Other advices reached here from Asuncion said rioting had broken out in the city and the government had declared a state of siege throughout the country.

Paraguayan President Federico Chaves, 74, was inaugurated last Aug. 15 for a five-year term. He previously served almost four years of the unexpired term of ousted president Molas Lopez.

Recent political calm had contrasted sharply with the preceding 20-month period which saw four presidents come and go.

The reports of the uprising reached Buenos Aires just four days before Argentine President Juan Peron was scheduled to leave for his second state visit to Paraguay in seven months.

Paraguay and Argentina signed an agreement for an economic union as a result of his visit last October.

TLC Out To Defeat Government

VANCOUVER (CP) — The Vancouver, New Westminster and District Trades and Labor Council has officially launched a campaign to defeat British Columbia's Social Credit government.

A resolution urging organized labor throughout B.C. to establish the "utmost political unity" in opposition to the Social Credit party, so as to bring about their defeat "at the earliest electoral opportunity," was passed by delegates at a TLC meeting Tuesday night.

The resolution said that since Social Credit has ignored labor representations and enacted what it called the "most anti-labor legislation in the history of Canada," the council expresses a complete lack of confidence in the present administration.

HAVE $10,000 BACKING

Penticton V's Seek World Hockey Trip

VANCOUVER (CP)—Penticton V's now playing in the Allan Cup finals, are planning a bid to take a shot at the world hockey championship.

A request to represent Canada next year in the world hockey championships, wherever they are held, will be entered at the annual meeting of the Canadian Amateur Hockey Association starting here Monday.

Dr. Mel Butler, B.C. Hockey Association president, will enter the bid, well-backed financially.

Penticton radio station CKOK and the Penticton Herald have guaranteed $10,000 to cover players' loss of wages during the two months the team would be away from home.

The proposed tour scheduled would include six weeks of exhibition games and two weeks for the championship tournament.

Maurice Finnerty, the radio station owner, opened the drive to get Penticton the nod for the trip Tuesday.

"I'm sure Penticton hockey fans will subscribe the $10,000 overnight if the V's are chosen," Finnerty said.

"But even if they don't, CKOK and the Penticton Herald are prepared to guarantee that amount."

Seems t' me th' answer t' th' fire department problem is simple. Why don't th' Mayor jus' order that there be no more fires?

Times Newsman on Atlantic Dash By TCA Inaugural Super-Connie

By LESLIE FOX

Another milestone in Canada's aviation history will be passed this week-end when Trans-Canada Air Lines puts super-Constellation planes into service on its North Atlantic route.

The first "Super-Connie" will fly from Montreal Sunday morning to inaugurate the service which will cut two hours off the present flying time for the Atlantic hop.

Present plans, weather permitting, are to fly direct from Montreal to London and the hop is expected to establish an official flight record between the two points.

TCA expects to cover the 3,251-mile route in approximately nine hours. Existing official record between New York and London was set in 1937 by a Lockheed Electra, 20 hours and 29 minutes. Faster flights are customary now, of course, but the Sunday flight is to be officially checked by representatives of the Federation Aeronique Internationale, custodian of all official flying records.

FIRST FLIER IS GUEST

Fittingly, TCA has asked Hon. J. A. D. McCurdy, the man who flew the first Canadian plane 46 years ago, to be its honored passenger on the first flight.

Mr. McCurdy and a representative group of Canadian newspaper, magazine, radio and television men will fly to London for a three-day visit, returning to Montreal, May 13.

The next day regular flights will start four times weekly and will operate daily later.

Mr. McCurdy, who later became lieutenant-governor of Nova Scotia, piloted a plane in Canada for the first time at Baddeck, N.S., in 1908. He holds Canadian pilot's license No. 1.

REPLACE NORTH STARS

Trans-Canada now uses Canadian-built North Star skyliners on its trans-Atlantic operations. As the 300 mph "Super-Connies" are delivered from the Lockheed Aircraft Corporation, they will replace the North Stars.

Newsmen from all parts of Canada, including the writer, on Sunday will be aboard the pre-inaugural plane which has a capacity of 54 passengers.

They make up a cross-section of the newspaper, radio and television business from coast to coast.

Saanich Building Boom Hits $10 Million Mark

80 Projects, 1,000 Houses Create Problem

By HUMPHRY DAVY

The biggest land and building boom in the history of Saanich municipality is under way.

Over $10,000,000 is tied up in the boom, municipal officials reported today.

Here are the facts:

In the past six months 80 new subdivisions have been approved, tentatively approved or awaiting sanction. This is an all-time record and is not surpassed by the city or Oak Bay.

Land value of subdivisions providing over 1,000 lots is estimated at about $1,000,000.

In addtiion, municipal officials predict the building of 1,000 new homes this year, representing an increase of 30 per cent over 1953.

Value of buildings will total about $9,000,000.

The subdivisions will require about five miles of new roads at a total cost of $75,000

New water mains to be laid down for the new "housing estates" will cost about $120,000.

UNPRECEDENTED

"We have never had a busier time in Sanaich," commented municipal engineer H. D. Dawson. "I have never seen anything like it."

The engineer and his staff of 14, who are also responsible for a $2,500,000 sewage project and extensive waterworks and drainage projects now under way, are swamped with work dealing wtih new subdivisions.

Large estates, farms and property are being sliced into multiple lots which vary in size from 6,500 square feet to 1½ acres. The average subdivision contains between 20 and 25 lots.

THREE EXPLANATIONS

Reasons for the boom are threefold:

1. Shortage of property in Victoria has forced land speculators to search elsewhere for building sites.

2. Speculators are expecting private building to soar as the result of the new federal loan plan under the National Housing Act.

3. There is a trend in the city for residents to move into the country.

Some of the subdivisions take up large parcels of land. The W. T. Rice subdivision south of Whiteside Street eventually will contain over 100 lots.

PROJECTS LISTED

Among other large subdivisions which have been approved or are awaiting approval are:

"Glandford Gardens, east of Glandford and north of Baxter, 100 lots, promoted by Douglas Hawkes.

John Peace subdivision, west of Glandford and north of Baxter, 42 lots.

H. Harder subdivisions, west of Raymond Street, 49 lots.

H. Robinson subdivisions, west of Raymond Street, 49 lots.

Vantreight subdivision, between Ferndale and the water, 44 lots.

Paul Case subdivision, between Lochside and Cordova Bay Road, 20 lots.

J. D. Grant subdivision off Gordon Head Road, 61 lots.

G. W. Piercy subdivisions between Lily and Rogers and Douglas, over 100 lots.

Fletcher's May Wind Up; Here 80 Years

Fletcher Bros. Ltd., pioneer Victoria music and appliance store, may go out of business after 80 years' existence.

Walter Fletcher, president, acknowledged today this possibility was under consideration along with an alternative, that the firm move to new premises. Mr. Fletcher said he did not know when the matter might be decided.

In any event, Fletcher's will be vacating the Douglas Street premises, which it has occupied since 1922, before the end of this year. The location has been taken over, on a long-term lease basis, by Saba Bros. Ltd., Vancouver, which sells fabrics and ladies' wear.

Fletcher Bros.' was founded by Thomas Fletcher, who retired in 1896. The firm was extended to Vancouver, Nanaimo and Prince Rupert, with the head store in Victoria.

The business was divided during the second generation with James H. Fletcher taking over the Victoria store, and his brother, George A. Fletcher, taking over Nanaimo. The two stores are no longer connected.

Saba Bros. has been in business in Vancouver for 51 years.

George Sees Socialistic Squeeze In Plan to Insure Civil Servants

The Liberal federal government no longer troubles to disguise the fact it believes in socialism, James George, Progressive Conservative candidate in the last general election, told the Oak Bay Conservative Association on Tuesday.

Compulsory insurance for civil servants he termed the "opening gun" in a campaign to nationalize insurance and to bring under state control all underwriters.

"The small merchant, the insurance agent, the small logger, all are being caught up in the socialistic squeeze," he said.

The field of opportunity was constantly being narrowed by a government which was succeeding in "somethering" enterprise.

He called on insurance men to present a united front against the "soft but binding chains of state control."

Meeting was held at St. Mary's Hall with Lieut.-Col. W. Gage as chairman.

Egypt's Press Lords Imprisoned, Fined; Government Runs Papers

CAIRO (AP) — Egypt's military regime went into the newspaper business today and put the Abul Fath brothers out.

The revolutionary council shuttered the Faths' paper, Al Misri, the Middle East's biggest, after a court Tuesday meted out long prison terms to the press lords and fined one of them $1,000,000.

Guidance Minister Salah Salem said the government also took over custody of the brothers' publishing company, which puts out two leading French-language papers and one English-language organ in Cairo. Salem said these papers will continue to publish, under government supervision and with the profits going toward meeting the fine.

Al Misri had been the organ of the Wafdist party, the dominant faction during the latter years of ex-king Farouk's regime and a chief target of the military government's charges of graft and corruption during the monarchy.

Neither brother will go to jail, but their press empire has been shattered by the court decision which found the two, Mahmoud and Hassein, guilty of activities against the interests of the Egyptian state.

KINGSTON, Jamaica (Reuters)—Admiral E. B. Taylor, United States naval commander at Guantanamo Bay, Cuba, has apologized to the governor and people of Jamaica for incidents involving American sailors while off duty in the port of Kingston.

Taylor expressed "sincere regret" for an accident on March 13 in which an American naval sentry from a visiting American warship fired a rifle shot in the air during a dispute with a Kingston policeman.

The policeman was said to have protested against being called a "nigger."

In a letter to Governor Sir Hugh Foot, Taylor promised to continue efforts to stamp out acts of this nature and assured him of the continued goodwill of the American navy towards the people of Jamaica.

Canada Not Committed To Asia Pact—Pearson

Minister Clears Meaning of Speech

GENEVA (CP) — External Affairs Minister L. B. Pearson said today that when he wrote his speech for the Geneva conference he had not had in mind the specific possibility that Canada might join the projected southeast Asia security pact.

He made this comment when asked about the significance of the statement in his speech Tuesday that failure of the Far East conference here might result in further collective security measures by the Western powers. This would apply particularly in respect of Indo-China.

Conference observers believed Pearson's warning of "further collective consideration" was designed to emphasize Canada's solidarity with the other Western powers in the event of failure of the conference.

LANDLORDS SAY BCE SHOULD DE-POISON GAS

VANCOUVER (BUP)—Demands that the B.C. Electric Company either remove the poison content from its gas or pay for safety devices were levelled Tuesday night at a stormy meeting of the Apartment and Rooming House Owners' Association.

The association decided to launch a petition with a 100,000-name landlords objective to call for the city of Vancouver and the publicic utilities commission to suspend all safety device installations until a full investigation had been made into production and distribution of gas by the B.C. Electric.

Low Grain Rate Hits CPR Hard; Earnings Down

MONTREAL (CP) — W. A. Mather, president of the Canadian Pacific Railway Company, called today for removal of government regulations holding grain rates to 1899 levels and indicated maintenance work will be restricted to necessity and safety.

Addressing shareholders at the company's 73rd annual meeting, Mr. Mather also announced acquisition of a new fleet of diesel locomotives for transcontinental passenger runs.

"Canada has reaped large grain crops in recent years but the growing burden of low grain rates, because of the mounting costs of wages and materials, has been the major factor in depressing railway net in relation to gross earnings to unprecedented low levels," said the president.

He expressed belief that a change in government policy on grain rates "would effect an improvement not only in railway net earnings, but in the economy as a whole."

He said "The Potentialities of Canada" cannot fail to impress even the most timorous," but at the same time the company's net rail earnings for the first quarter of 1954 were down $1,600,000 because of a decrease in traffic volume of about 13 per cent. There was "little prospect" of an increase in other income during 1954.

"Every effort is being made, through the attainment of the highest possible level of efficiency, to improve net earnings.

Earthquake Jiggles Seattle Area

SEATTLE (AP)—Furniture, dishes, windows, pictures and nerves got a bit of shaking as an earthquake jiggled a Washinton area including the north end of Seattle at 5.44 p.m. Tuesday.

The sudden jolt broke some dishes in Tacoma. Numerous residents of the affected area called newspapers and police. Little other damage seemed to be done.

IN THE COMMONS

Drew Backs Quebec's Income Tax Request

OTTAWA (CP)—Quebec's bid for full deduction of its new 15-per-cent income tax from federal tax levies has gained the support of Opposition Leader Drew.

He said Tuesday in the Commons that Quebec's request should be granted this year and that a general federal-provincial conference should be called immediately to settle the broad problem of re-allocation of taxing powers before next year.

The Progressive Conservative leader, entering the closing stage of the budget debate, for the first time supported Quebec's request for full deduction of the tax.

He said it would cost the federal government $25,000,000 less than a tax-rental agreement which it wanted Quebec to sign. It would mean no new cost to the other provinces and would allow them to begin discussions on the general problem of a new alignment of taxing fields for the federal and provincial governments.

The government has rejected Quebec's bid for full deduction for its new tax. Monday, Prime Minister St. Laurent turned down the proposal made earlier by Mr. Drew for an immediate federal-provincial conference but said the door is open for Premier Duplessis to discuss a solution.

AN UNHAPPY SPEECH

Mr. Drew said the prime minister's statement was a most unhappy speech in every way.

Mr. Drew said the Quebec tax dispute is a costly and meaningless conflict.

The federal government had admitted the principle of deductibility and allowed a reduction of up to five per cent from federal taxes for provincial income taxes. But acceptance of the principle that the federal government could dictate the amount of provincial income taxes would mean the end of the federal system.

'SUBSERVIENT COMMISSION'

"The provincial governments would be nothing more than subservient commissions carrying out the orders of the government.

"They would be rubber stamps for Ottawa. And whenever they needed more money they would have to come, cap in hand, as the premier of Quebec has been invited to do, through that door that is opened for such a clearly defined purpose."

When the provinces gave up their income tax fields in 1942 under the wartime tax agreements, the federal government had promised to restore them after the war. That promise included restoration of the government by which the federal government collected income tax for some of the provinces.

The promise was being ignored and the federal government was deliberately trying to bring as much as possible of the country's tax money under its control.

Dickenson Sentenced To 10 Years

WASHINGTON (UP) — Cpl. Edward S. Dickenson, turnabout Korean war prisoner, was found guilty Tuesday of collaborating with Reds and informing on fellow prisoners, and sentenced to dishonorable discharge and 10 years at hard labor.

An eight-officer army court returned the verdict against the 23-year-old mountain boy from Cracker's Neck, Va., after deliberating for 10½ hours.

The case will be reviewed automatically by Maj.-Gen. John H. Stokes, commander of the military district of Washington, and then by the army board of review. It can then be appealed to the military court of appeals.

Guy Emery, Dickenson's civilian lawyer, called the conviction a "travesty on justice." He said he will take it to the military appeals court if the verdict is not overturned earlier.

Any of the reviewing agencies has power to reduce Dickenson's sentence but not to raise it.

$200 MILLION 'CUT' BELITTLED

CCFers Gillis and Thatcher Differ on Economy Theories

OTTAWA (BUP) — Clarence Gillis (CCF, Cape Breton South) doesn't think too much of the ideas of fellow-Socialist Ross Thatcher (CCF, Moose Jaw-Lake Centre) to cut government spending.

(Thatcher argued the day before that the government could save upwards of $200,000,000 a year by cuts.)

"I do not believe in inefficiency and waste," he said, "but until such time as someone is able to get up in the House and put his finger on some place where there is inefficiency, then the saving of money is not argument enough in the circumstances that this government faces today.

Gillis referred to Thatcher's demand that the Canadian National Railways give up plans for a $20,000,000 hotel in Montreal. The Cape Bretoner defended the project. He said he had heard other proposals along the same line as Thatcher's and "as far as I am concerned not one of them would stand up."

Government House Leader Walter Harris called out: "The whole of (Thatcher's) speech?"

Gillis replied: "All the recommendations I heard with the exception of a few publications about which he quibbled . . . with that exception I would not say that the economies recommended would amount to very much."

City Gardens Tour Attracts 1,500 From States and Eastern Canada

Hundreds of out-of-town visitors today viewed some of Victoria's most beautiful private gardens which have been thrown open to the public for the annual Spring Garden Festival sponsored by the Victoria Horticultural Society.

The four-day festival has attracted visitors from California, Oregon, Idaho, Washington, the mainland and up-island centres. Among the visitors is Mrs. Violet Colwill, who has traveled all the way from Toronto to see the gardens.

P. D. Smithers, secretary of the society, said an additional 150 visitors were expected Thursday from Oregon and Washington. "We expect over 1,500 persons to view the gardens," he said.

The festival includes visits to 42 privately-owned gardens which are famous for their wide variety of plants and flowering shrubs. Visiting hours are between 9.30 a.m. and 12 and 1.30 to 5 p.m. Transportation is available at the festival headquarters at the C & C Taxi, 906 Government.

Today visitors in buses and private cars visited 11 of the gardens. These included the gardens of D. Richardson, 2876 Sea View Road; F. L. Bishop, 3045 McAnnally Road, Dr. T. Mercer, 2750 Tudor Avenue; Mr. and Mrs. D. Osler, 3100 McAnnally; Mr. and Mrs. N. Abkhazi, 1946 Fairfield Road; Mrs. A. V. Ellis, 2001 King George Terrace; H. G. Home Playground Contest in City Expected to Draw 2,000 Entries

At least 2,000 entries in the Greater Victoria Backyard Playground Contest is the hope of the Recreational Council of Greater Victoria and the Victoria and District Parent-Teacher Council.

Officials said today nearly 11,000 entry blanks for the contest are being distributed to school children in Grades one to six, and early response is good.

Purpose of the contest is to get children off the streets and reduce traffic accidents as a result.

It was pointed out that a similar contest in Seattle in 1948 was credited with a two-thirds reduction in traffic mishaps.

CONTEST RULES

To enter the contest, all that is required is one permanent piece of playground equipment set up in the "backyard."

The equipment might include a swing, sand box, slide, playhouse, teeter-totter.

Certificates will be awarded by grades to school classes with the highest number of entries in proportion to the enrollment in that class.

Awards will be made to schools on the same basis—number of entries in proportion to total enrollment.

And special awards will be made for the best playgrounds.

In judging, consideration will be given to construction of equipment on strength, practicability safety and originality, child appeal, cost and artistic value.

Entries must be made by May 31 and judging will take place between June 1 and June 12. Results will be made known before school closing on June 25.

HE DOESN'T BELIEVE IN WORK

$3 Million Is Nice But Pat's Not Excited

TORONTO (CP) — Patrick Ballentine, 28-year-old advertising man who says he doesn't like work, is not excited at becoming a triple millionaire.

Under the estate of his late west coast lumber magnate father, Edward Blake Ballentine, he inherits $3,000,000. But apart from the possibility of moving to Vancouver "nothing's any different than it was," he said today in an interview.

He and his wife, formerly Helen Belfry, of Toronto, are selling their bungalow here but the future, as Pat sees it, is rather vague.

"I may open a public relations firm in Vancouver," he said, "but I don't like work. Frankly, I don't believe in it."

Ballantine is an advertising executive in a company of which his father was president and later admitted he spent less time at his desk than any other ad man in the city.

Up until now, he has been prohibited from working in his father's lumber company because of a family clause.

He is principal heir to his father's $3,378,148 estate and will receive nearly all the money after government succession duties have been subtracted.

Other beneficiaries include the Salvation Army, $25,000, St. Paul's Anglican Church, Vancouver, $10,000 and Peter's Infirmary, Hamilton, $10,000.

Still Mixed Fruit

THE CANADIAN TARIFF Board, apparently understanding the English language better than some government departments, has decided that mixed fruits are, after all, mixed fruits.

The Department of National Revenue, it will be recalled, had ruled some time ago that mixed fruits were peaches. As such they must pay an increased import duty. Then the Department of Justice, in an ironical commentary on its own name, decided that mixed fruits were not mixed fruit or peaches but preserves and must pay a still higher duty.

The Tariff Board ended its official farce by ruling that mixed fruit is imported into Canada as mixed fruit and must pay the duty fixed by Parliament. It is satisfactory to know that the Tariff Board understands the language and the law, is not to be misled by legal quibblers who are trying to impose a kind of secret protection against Parliament's will.

While all this was going on another tariff authority, in Washington, was considering matters of much greater importance.

Up to now the United States, in breach of signed contract, has imposed certain import restrictions on Canadian goods, but they have not significantly damaged the Canadian economy, though they have irritated some of our producers, especially dairymen. Now restrictions of real substance and certain to hurt us severely are under study by The American Tariff Commission.

The Commission is asked to restrict the importation of Canadian fish fillets and thus to rob our Atlantic fishermen of some $16 millions worth of business a year. It is also asked to restrict the importation of Canadian lead and zinc at a probable loss to the Canadian mineral industry of some $60 millions a year.

Thus the protectionists of the United States are moving into big business. If they can, they will make a mockery of President Eisenhower's policy of liberalizing trade. They will deal a serious blow to Canadian interests and, as The Financial Post says, they will encourage the Canadian Government to retaliate.

This kind of economic madness is old and familiar and is not confined to the United States. The protectionists of Canada are as determined as their rivals across the line to dam up the flow of trade, to the damage of both nations.

In the end, under American law, it is the President who must settle these matters, however the Tariff Commission may regard them. Mr. Eisenhower thus approaches a clear test of his own trade policy and his strength in the Republican Party. Not only Canada but the entire world will await his decision with anxiety as an indication of the future of the unequalled American market.

One Million Newcomers

SOME DAY THIS MONTH THE Citizenship and Immigration Department expects to welcome to Canada the millionth immigrant since the end of the Second World War.

Whatever ceremonies may mark the event, the occasion is one for thoughtful satisfaction by Canadians. By this steady flow of new citizens, Canada is filling up the vacant spaces that are at once the asset of future development and the liability of present defense.

According to statistics, about half the immigrants who have come since 1945 are active workers. Altogether they have brought with them into the country more than $415 million.

But beyond the actual cash, they have brought an immeasurable treasure of skills and abilities. They inject a surge of new blood into he already vital Canadian bloodstream and, since most of them are highly satisfactory as future citizens, they increase the strength of this land.

Immigration since the war has been attacked from many sides. At one extreme are those who contend Canada should have attracted infinitely more. At the other are those who think too many have been brought into the country, thereby endangering stability and employment opportunities. The fact that these two opposites in criticism have been voiced supports the argument that Canada has chosen a middle-of-the-road course.

In this respect the authorities have shown wisdom. One of the crying needs of this country is more population—population which will help to develop the resources waiting for sane exploitation and population which will overcome the difficulties of some of our geography.

At the same time, wholesale introduction of new settlers beyond the speed at which they have been admitted could have caused national indigestion. By the course followed they have been and are being assimilated without undue disruption in the Canadian economy or in the Canadian way of life.

This month, one million will have reached Canadian shores. In the years ahead more will come, adding not only to the strength of this country, but to its maturity and productiveness.

Drunk at Harrison

THIS WEEK THE CITY COUNcil discussed the amount of money it should set aside to finance attendance by department heads at various conferences. Several aldermen and the mayor appear to believe too much is spent on such trips. One alderman pointed out that businessmen found it valuable to send their key men to conferences and conventions.

Mayor Harrison replied:

"They don't send their men to Harrison Hot Springs for a drunk."

The implication is clear—city staff members use conventions as a means of carousing at public expense.

If the mayor did not mean that, he should quickly explain what he meant. If he did mean it, then he should apologize to the civic staff without delay.

BY DAVID BROCK

I MET a man the other day who said he certainly did enjoy that article of mine. I asked him what the article was about, and he said he couldn't remember. "Well," I said, "it's nice to know I write so delicately, I never force my point of view on you." Anyhow, this man wasn't so vague as a friend of mine who wanted to tell me about a wonderful new book. "What's it called?" "I forget." "Who wrote it?" "Never heard of him before." "What's it about?" "I can't just seem to think of it. And yet, darn it, only last night I was saying I must remember to tell Dave about it." First impressions!

GEHENNA

TO our great surprise, my wife and I discovered that our smaller children had never been told anything about hell, though they are 9 and 10½. They have heard cross people, including kids, inviting each other to go to hell, but they'd never been curious to discover what and where hell might be. Now that geography is called social studies, it seems to be getting vaguer.

Well, my wife comes from a long line of Presbyterian ministers . . . her two grandfathers were just that, and others before them. So she was able to make her little travelogue rather vivid. And she quoted that ghastly little book for children of another generation, called "Peep of Day," which is sub-titled "The Earliest Religious Instruction the Infant Mind is Capable of Receiving."

My edition of "Peep of Day" is a rather toned-down one, of about 1870, but even it looks forward to hearing and seeing little children in hell, with their brains boiling inside their skulls. The book tells children that if they lose their tempers they will go to hell, a thought the author almost enjoys. By the way, the author remains anonymous. Many sadists are modest that way.

THE children thought they had never heard anything so funny as my wife's picture of hell and eternal torment. They laughed till they fell out of bed. And when they recovered their speech, one of them said through her hiccups, "But do you really think our grandfather is in hell?" She seems to have got the story a little confused somehow. At the risk of spoiling her innocent fun, I think we had better explain that her grandfather is NOT in hell; it was merely that some of his ancestors expected to meet him there. I bet the author of "Peep of Day" is in hell, though, much to his own surprise.

RARE METALS

I SAW an advertisement for a very handsome cigarette holder. The maker can supply it in two styles; one is made of "silvium" and the other of "goldium." I am sorry I can't get one in stainless steelium, or plain aluminium-ium-yum-yum. Still, silvium and goldium are very fine, especially when studded with pearlium.

You know, all this nomenclature reminds me, for no good reason, of the adventures in names which occurred to an otherwise harmless orchestral conductor named Calvin Winter. For many years he conducted the orchestra in the Capitol Theatre in Vancouver . . . you will remember cinema orchestras, unless you are very young . . . and his group was known as Calvin Winter and His Capitolians.

WELL, the movie-house orchestra began to fade away, in most theatres. But when he and the Capitol left each other, Calvin Winter got a job for a while at the Stanley Theatre, and for a time one was able to hear Calvin Winter and His Stanolians. (I am not making this up.) After that, he performed for Home Gas. If my memory is correct, this third orchestra was never called Calvin Winter and His Home Oilians.

But, whatever it was called, the late Jimmy Butterfield of the Province was able to point out that there was undoubtedly something very oleaginous about the career of C. Winter. And some of us, in our more frivolous moments, had visions of Calvin Winter being organist and choirmaster to a sect of Holy Rollers, so that one might hear of Calvin Winter and His Holy Rollians.

OR of his playing soft music during the siesta hour at a hotel in Corsica, so that his orchestra would be Calvin Winter and his Nap-oleons in both senses. There seemed absolutely no limit to this sort of thing. Ah, those were the days. But they have vanished now, and all that remains is a ghostly memory of Calvin Winter and His Long, Long Agolians.

TIGHTNESS AND TRITENESS

I HAVE a friend who is rather fussy about his vocabulary. He said he was tired of saying that this or that low character was "tight as a drum." He asked what else one could be tight as. I said rivets are usually thought to be very tight. And "tight as a rivet" has a special charm, since it is the exact opposite of "right as a trivet." If anyone ever says "right as a trivet" any more.

FIRE WARNINGS

Now that the fire hazard season is approaching, I am writing to suggest precautions to be taken by campers and picnickers to prevent fires in the great out-of-doors. Empty bottles or pieces of them should not be left where the sun rays could penetrate to them.

A number of people have told me that they can and do cause fires.

I consider this should be a must for preventing indoor fires: that upholstered furniture be examined in clubs, offices and homes in case a smouldering cigarette or match has fallen between the cushions.

CREDIT LINE

Regarding your editorial and Mr. Bruce Hutchison's article on the change over to automatic telephones in the Belmont, Colquitz and Albion exchanges.

In all fairness, I think much credit should be given to the former MLA, Mr. Arthur Ash, for his constant prodding at the B.C. Telephone Company while he was member for Saanich.

It was Mr. Ash who carried on an almost one man campaign in the Legislature and before the Board of Transport commissioners that finally got the results that the citizens of these exchanges were entitled to.

FORMER SAANICH RESIDENT

FOR CONVENIENCE

Any time one wishes to post a letter in the outside letter drop at the new Post Office Building when driving by, it is realized what a nuisance it is to have to find a place to park, stop the car then get out and walk to the drop, mail the letter then back to the car.

To my mind someone slipped up in providing for the convenience of the public in not putting in at least one curb letter drop where a man could drive up, reach out and put his mail in without having even to stop his motor. The mail of course would be collected through a runway under the sidewalk by those in the Post Office.

The first time, and only place where I have seen that done is in Edmonton and to be able to drive up to the curb in below zero weather, reach out and drop a letter in the box makes one realize what a great convenience it is.

Possibly it is not too late for the authorities to do something about implementing such a system here and earn the gratitude of thousands.

PLEBISCITE

It is to be hoped that the Outer Victoria municipalities will profit from the buffle-headed experience of Victoria proper in connection with the recent plebiscite.

Regardless of the fact its citizens had already voted strongly in favor of the sale of liquors by the glass, and heedless of the express recommendations of the Stevens Commission, Victoria allowed itself to be pushed into a costly and time-wasting second round of voting, just to say again that which had already been said before.

This second-round of voting was brought about by a petition incited by a few holier-than-thou "drys", and the honesty of that petition may well be questioned in light of subsequent facts. I say this now, fortified by a fact of which the reader is doubtless aware, that whereas these "drys" had presented a petition purporting to hold the actual signatures and to express the genuine wishes of more than 13,000 qualified Victoria voters, the best these same "drys" could account for at the polls was only about one-half that number.

If there had been actually over 13,000 bona fide signatures of qualified voters on that petition, I must ask the reader is it not a very strange thing that only 7,325 in all came out to vote "no" on the beer-parlor question? And I think we may fairly assume that all the "no" voters would certainly vote "no" on that question.

So it must appear now that there could not possibly have been anywhere near 13,000 bona fide petitioners; and possibly not more than 8,000. And it must further appear that the citizens of Victoria were let in for all the extra cost and waste of time involved in this plebiscite because of a petition that should now be properly considered a phony.

H. V. O'REILLY

FLUORIDATION

There have been several reports on fluoridation by local gatherings of dentists, a doctor or two and other citizens who appear to favor the introduction of this chemical into our water system, but no authoritative opinions to the contrary have been expressed, so far as one is aware.

So many schemes are afoot these days (ostensibly for the public good) that have been found to be scandalous frauds engineered by clever high-pressure salesmen, that it is extremely hazardous to adopt any of them, no matter how high-sounding the name or reputable the auspices, without a thorough probing of their bona fides by impartial experts beforehand. Fluoridation is one of these.

The only merit of this proposition advanced so far is that it will benefit the teeth of children. How about the adults? And why should dentists, who make their living from defective teeth, be so enthusiastic about driving away business? That simply doesn't ring true.

When weighed in the analytical scale of the bio-chemist it is found that the defects far outweigh the merits—that because fluorine is a deadly poison it hardens the bones prematurely, and that it will be detrimental to the general health of the community in other respects. Now, since water is an ingredient of daily consumption by everybody, it is of paramount importance that it should be exhaustively investigated and decided by a plebiscite. Many cities in the U.S.A., after an investigation of the subject, have rejected fluoridation outright, among them Seattle by a vote of two to one.

With the United States Poised on the Brink of Intervention in the Indo-Chinese War

By JOSEPH and STEWART ALSOP
From Washington

LAST week the Eisenhower administration came within an ace—or at least within a vote of the British cabinet—of asking Congress to approve American intervention in the Indo-Chinese war. This remarkable fact may perhaps be denied, but it is now revealed on the highest and most undoubted authority. It remains intensely significant. It is the best indication of the extremely somber American official view of the type of negotiation now going on at Geneva, which our policy makers had hoped to prevent.

Joseph

The signs suggest that the administration was not just reluctantly ready to intervene in Indo-China, but had firmly concluded we ought to intervene if we could carry our allies with us.

The Congress would now be debating a resolution allowing the President to send American armed forces to Indo-China, if the British government had not turned down American proposals for "united action" at the emergency cabinet meetings held in London.

Here in Washington, the draft resolution had been prepared. A provisional commitment to ask for congressional approval had been given to the French government. If the British had gone along, the thing would have been done.

The immediate background of this conditional administration decision to enter the Indo-Chinese war—for such it was—may be summarized as follows:

First, the French government presented an urgent appeal, towards the beginning of the previous week, for a massive American air effort to relieve the fearful pressure on the heroic defenders of Dien Bien Phu. The official appeal was accompanied by an unofficial warning, from American quarters, that the fall of Dien Bien Phu would bring in its train the fall of the Laniel government in Paris.

COMPLETE SURRENDER

The next French government, it was emphasized, would then almost inevitably seek the kind of "compromise" in Indo-China that would amount to complete surrender to the Communists. Some hope was held out, as well, that the dramatic gesture of American intervention would greatly change the political climate in Paris. The worst political consequences might then be prevented, even if the air relief of Dien Bien Phu should not prove militarily effective and the beleaguered fortress should fall in the end.

Second, the American government was not unprepared for this request and warning. A carrier force had already been sent to the Gulf of Tonkin to stand by for use if need be. The policy of "united action" to save Indo-China from capture by the Communists had already been agreed on. It had been publicly propounded in the Overseas Press Club speech of Secretary of State Dulles.

The question was not so much whether to act at all, but whether to act now or later. After bipartisan consultation of the leaders of the Senate (who have been repeatedly called in since the beginning of the Indo-China crisis), the idea of independent American action was ruled out as not politically feasible. Long before, it had also been decided that the president could not use his powers as commander-in-chief without congressional authorization.

Hence, if anything was to be done, Congress had to be asked to approve. If America was not to act alone, allied governments had to be asked to join in the action. The military danger at Dien Bien Phu and the political danger in Paris seemed to call for immediate action. Delay to negotiate might produce defeat at Dien Bien Phu. Defeat at Dien Bien Phu would lead, not to negotiation, but to surrender at Geneva. The danger was an Asian equivalent of Hitler's reoccupation of the Rhineland.

Third, therefore, the resolution asking congressional approval of American intervention in Indo-China was drawn up and approved. Just before last week-end, Under-Secretary of State W. Bedell Smith imparted the American government's decision to French Ambassador Henri Bonnet. Ambassador Bonnet was shown the draft resolution.

Thus the French government was told that the American government, for its part, was willing and even eager to grant the request for an air effort to save Dien Bien Phu, with all the immense consequences that this action would entail.

But Under-Secretary Smith also emphasized to Ambassador Bonnet that we could not depart from the conditions attached to our decision. At least some of our allies must support and join in this decision of the American government. Unless "united action" was the theme, Congress could not be asked to act at all. With no promise of allied support, the request would be folly because it would be refused.

Fourth, this vital condition of the American decision immediately demanded a decision in London. "United action" could hardly be hoped for if the British held back. The British government was informed of the position. By instruction from his government, the French ambassador to London, Rene Massigli, made an urgent plea for a favorable British answer to the American proposal.

EMERGENCY MEETINGS

These crisis pressures produced the emergency cabinet meetings held in London last Sunday, April 25. The British have always inclined to write down the military importance of Dien Bien Phu. The British experts are said to have argued that massive air strikes would not save the fortress in any case. The leaders of the British government were already committed not to join any "united action" until an attempt had been made at Geneva to negotiate an Indo-Chinese settlement.

As to negotiation, the British seem to have lacked the firm American conviction that partition of Indo-China would produce just the same results that were produced by the Munich partition of Czechoslovakia. Finally, the British were not impressed by the acute political danger in Paris. The truth no doubt is that their own political difficulties bulked even larger in the eyes of the British cabinet. Intervention in Indo-China has won no support, thus far, in the House of Commons.

Thus the British decision was to stand aside. French Foreign Minister Bidault heard the bad news from British Foreign Minister Eden at Orly airfield, where Eden stopped on his way back to Geneva. Without explaining the extraordinary background of his statement, Prime Minister Churchill also told the Commons on Monday what Eden had said to Bidault the day before.

Even so, the Eisenhower administration leaders did not immediately abandon their conditional decision. The possibility of independent American action in Indo-China, was again mentioned at a meeting with the bipartisan Senate chiefs; but the Senators again objected strongly to it.

After this, some efforts were made to organize a more limited "united action" without British concurrence; but too few other nations would accept the invitation that the British had already refused.

Thus the Geneva conference opened with no relief for Dien Bien Phu in sight. That fact, if one may judge from a distance, is still the dominating feature of the situation.

Gen. Christian de Castries and his brave men have by no means given up the fight. Yet the fortress area is now reduced to about five-eighths of a square mile. The military danger at Dien Bien Phu is greater. The political danger in Paris is no less. Already there are reports from Geneva that a Munich-style partition of Indo-China is being seriously talked about by the Western allies.

Because of the French lack of candor, and the American optimism, the British were utterly unready for the shock when it came. Secretary Dulles' first invitation to united action, in his Overseas Press Club speech, affected London like an unexpected dynamite blast. That largely helped to explain the British response, when Secretary Dulles made his quick trip to London and Paris prior to the Geneva meeting.

At that time, the French government had already made their first request for massive American air aid at Dien Bien Phu, which was delivered to the State Department soon after Dulles spoke at the Press Club. This request the American government had almost immediately rejected, partly because the situation at Dien Bien Phu was not so critical, and partly because the secretary of state was just leaving for abroad.

On that occasion, the French were not told that we, for our part, were ready to act at once. They were simply told, instead, that the whole matter must be put off until the plans for united action could be laid. The administration hoped that the French request would provide a background against which Secretary Dulles could persuade the British to approve united action but the answer to Dulles was "no." That answer had hardly been given before the second and more urgent French request was presented. Its history has already been given above. The possible consequences of its refusal have also been suggested. The future must now be the judge, however, between the American and British attitudes.

FROM WASHINGTON By WALTER LIPPMAN

The Terms of an Armistice

THE formation and even more so the maintenance of a common diplomatic front at Geneva depend upon this crucial question: Can the terms of an armistice in Indo-China be conceived which the Communistic powers might, and that the Western powers could, accept? The schism within the Western Alliance can be closed only if agreement can be reached on a common principle of negotiation. For without that a common front will quickly be torn apart between the advocates of appeasement on the one hand and of unconditional surrender on the other.

Lippmann

Thus far no one in a responsible position has come forward with so much as a hint of acceptable terms. The terms most frequently suggested, only to be rejected, are of two types.

One is a territorial partition, presumably at the 16th parallel. This was the line chosen in 1945 to mark the southern limits of the Nationalist Chinese occupation of Indo-China. A partition of this kind, surrendering Indo-China north of the 16th parallel to Ho Chi Minh, would mean a defective abandonment of Tonking, of the Red River Delta, the capital city of Hanoi, the port of Haiphong, the railroad to Yunnan, and the swallowing of the kingdom of Laos within the surrounding Communist sphere of influence.

The second type of negotiated settlement which is generally discussed is based on the territorial unity of Viet Nam under a coalition government.

Manifestly this would be even worse than the territorial partition. For there can be little doubt that the Communists in the coalition would soon dominate the government and would become the masters of the whole country.

This would seem to leave us with little prospect of negotiating and a most unpleasant prospect of having to fight an indecisive war. It has occurred to me to ask why we should suppose that either of these two types of "solutions"—either of them a grave defeat—needs to be the terms of an armistice. Am I crazy or have we become confused by failing to realize the radical difference in the world today between an armistice and a settlement?

We have, for example, an armistice in Germany, in Austria, in Korea, and at least de facto in Formosa. But in no one of these areas is there a settlement and none is now in sight.

In Korea there is an armistice based on the partition of the country, but there is no present prospect of a settlement which would unite the country under one government and lead to the withdrawal of all foreign troops. Now when we talk about Indo-China, are we not trying to imagine that which is for the time being impossible as it is in Korea—namely, a settlement which left the whole country in the hands of the native population?

If we are clear that what we are trying to think out are the terms of an armistice, does it not follow that what we are looking for are not the terms on which the great powers now engaged directly or indirectly in Indo-China would withdraw? If we are thinking of an armistice, what we are looking for are the terms on which the great powers would agree—without further fighting—not to withdraw but to stay.

That is the basic agreement of the Korean armistice. It is an agreement to stay, not to withdraw. It is an agreement to stop fighting where the fighting ended, with the North Koreans and the Red Chinese, the South Koreans, the Americans and the other UN forces remaining where they are.

The Korean armistice was acceptable to us because it prevented the conquest of Korea and has kept out of hostile hands the near approaches to Japan. It was acceptable to the Communist powers because, as Pravda has just told us, the United States does not occupy the whole peninsula and does not have a "bridgehead" for an attack on China.

The point is that neither side trusted the promises of the other and yet a cease-fire was agreed upon when each side was able to hold a physical position which made it improbable that the cease-fire would be broken.

There is, of course, no continuous front in Indo-China, as there was in Korea, at which to arrange an armistice. For this reason the problem is more complicated. Nevertheless, though there is no clear front line, the French Union holds the ports and the big cities near the sea, while the Viet Minh are dominant in the hinterlands and in the villages.

An armistice agreement which recognized the continuing presence of the French Union forces in the cities and ports until there was a political settlement would be honorable and it would not need to mean the surrender of the vital interests of the Vietnamese or of the Western powers.

Might it be acceptable to the Communist powers—acceptable in the sense that they would then advise Ho Chi Minh to sign an armistice and would—as we have done with President Rhee—use influence and the control of military supplies to discourage the outbreak of more violence?

YOUR HEALTH By DR. WALTER C. ALVAREZ

Chronic Ulcerative Colitis

Dr. Alvarez is Emeritus Consultant in Medicine, Mayo Clinic and Emeritus Professor of Medicine, Mayo Foundation.

There is a miserable disease called chronic ulcerative colitis. Its only virtue is that it is somewhat rare, but this doesn't help the unfortunate persons who suffer from it. The symptoms are usually severe diarrhea, sometimes with abdominal pain, sometimes with a little fever, and usually soon with a loss of weight and strength. In the later stages of the disease there may be attacks of arthritis and ulcerations around the anus.

Dr. Alvarez

There are several theories as to the origin of the disease. Certainly, some persons develop it because of prolonged nervous tension and strain. Thus, a child may be frightened and left with distressing feelings of insecurity when he hears his parents quarreling and discussing divorce. A woman I saw developed an ulcerative colitis when she married a man she did not love, and then did not have the courage to get a divorce. First, she had an ordinary nervous diarrhea, and later this brought on an ulceration of the bowel.

Recently, I saw a fine man whose ulcerative colitis came when he suffered great anxiety over big losses in his business. A young man developed severe ulcerative colitis when he went through an agony of anxiety over his public examination for a Ph.D. degree. Another man developed the disease when he campaigned for the office of state senator. The strain was too much for him.

SOME BLAME ALLERGY

Some of my friends feel certain that an allergic reaction to food is responsible for ulcerative colitis, and I can see how, in some cases, this could be a contributory cause.

Whatever the first cause may be, eventually infection with bacteria or a virus comes, and much of the inner lining of the colon is destroyed. It ulcerates so badly that large patches of it disappear.

Unfortunately, there is no diet or drug that will surely bring a cure. My friend, Dr. J. A. Bargen, who has spent much of his life studying this disease, has had good results with one of the sulfonamides. Of late some good results have been reported from the use of hydrocortisone and ACTH. These drugs may serve to tide a patient over an acute flare-up.

In all cases rest, both mental and physical, can help greatly, as will the usual treatment for any type of diarrhea. Always a liberal and more-than-adequate diet must be given because, with 20 bowel movements a day, the patient is losing a large portion of the food that he has eaten. In the flare-ups it helps to give some coedine or paregoric to quiet the bowel.

In very bad cases in which the disease cannot be controlled with rest in bed and diet and medicine, the colon may have to be removed surgically. Some physicians are rather enthusiastic about this treatment, while others are not. It is, of course, a big operation, and in the case of a weakened and badly infected patient it must always carry a considerable risk to life. Fortunately, in recent years, surgeons have greatly lowered the immediate mortality rate.

DANGER OF RECURRENCE

About half of the patients do well on medical treatment and many remain in good or fair health for years. Many must keep watching their health because of the danger of recurrences.

I always urge these patients to get quickly into the hands of an expert so as to get good treatment early. Why? Because in some ways ulcerative colitis resembles tuberculosis. With tuberculosis of the lungs, if the patient is cured quickly, before he suffers much loss of tissue, he can live out his days in good health, and can be strong enough to work hard. But if he delays going to a sanatorium until his lungs are badly ulcerated, then even if he gets a cure, he is likely always to be a bit short of breath and weak, and in danger of getting a recurrence.

Similarly, if a man waits too long to be treated well for ulcerative colitis, his colon is likely to become much shortened and narrowed and badly scarred. Then his disease may flare up whenever he has a bad cold or when he becomes weakened or overworked or badly worried. Unfortunately, in many cases, there are two factors which prevent a man or woman from getting a good and prompt cure. They are (1) an inability to find security or mental peace or happiness, and (2) a lack of money.

OKANAGAN FRUIT FARMERS APPEAL FOR FEDERAL AID

KELOWNA, B.C. (CP)—Fruit growers in the Okanagan Valley, 200 miles inland from Canada's west coast, have appealed for federal aid following last week's severe frost damage to the soft fruit crops.

Arthur Garrish, in a telegram to Agriculture Minister Gardiner, asked the government to consider an emergency loan for hard-hit farmers.

A sudden drop in temperatures Wednesday night caused heavy damage to peaches, cherries and plums, particularly in the south Okanagan. The frosts continued until last week-end. Mr. Garrish said the financial position of many growers is desperate, but that it was impossible to assess the damage fully yet.

Douk Solution Seen In New School Move

Sons of Freedom Call for Changes In Curriculum Held To Be 'Significant'

A "significant" change in attitude among leading members of the Sons of Freedom sect holds hope for early solution of the Doukhobor problem, news editor Lance Whittaker of the Victoria Times told the alumni association of St. Joseph's Hospital Tuesday evening.

"The intimation given at the week-end by the Sons' committee chairman John Perepelkin that the sect would welcome talks with the Department of Education on a modified curriculum is the most hopeful development in many years," Mr. Whittaker said.

The speaker explained that Russian language classes in bible reading and hymnology had always been the custom of the Doukhobors, and that the expansion of these classes to a regular school system, by the inclusion of mandatory curriculum subjects was feasible.

HISTORY IS BUGBEAR

Standing committees on school curricula are common in other provinces, where Mennonite and Amish colonies object to some of the teachings in Canadian schools, Mr. Whittaker pointed out. The chief difficulty with the Doukhobors would be the acceptance of a history course, which the Sons look upon "as simply a record of wars and conquests, building a nationalistic pride which is repugnant to their pacifist philosophy."

The speaker gave an outline of the background of the sect, which dates to 1725, and concluded by expressing the hope that the provincial government would see fit to meet the proposals for a curriculum committee in a co-operative spirit.

Products Fair TV Stops Hundreds; Mrs. Falconer Is Prize Winner

Two little old ladies approached a battery of television sets on display at the B.C. Products Fair in the Memorial Arena Tuesday night.

"What channel is that one on?" asked one.

"I don't know," replied the other, "but I've seen those faces before . . . oh, my goodness . . . it's us!"

The display was an exhibit of closed-circuit TV where a camera is trained on the crowd and the image is projected over the television screen. Hundreds of peope found themselves being stared at by their own faces and failed to recognize themselves.

Tuesday night's lucky door-prize winner was Mrs. G. Falconer, 2168 Ferndale.

Mrs. Falconer, who was present at the drawing, has her choice of an electric range, an automatic clothes washer or dryer, a refrigerator, or a 21" television set.

Ralph Rendle, Stanhope Dairy Farm, won Grand Championship in the cattle show Tuesday night with his Holstein, Stanhope Jeannie Flood.

Other winners were: Senior calf and 4H, Joseph Taylor; junior yearling, Bill Taylor and Son; senior yearling, R. Rendle; two-year-old dry, Bill Taylor and Son; three-year-old dry, Henry Robinson and Son; four-year-old dry, R. Rendle.

B.C. Products Fair continues today and through the week with doors opening at 2 p.m.

Consequently strong winds are likely to be delayed until Thursday morning. Clouds from this system will spread into the northern interior tomorrow and elsewhere sunny skies and slightly higher temperatures are forecast.

Malan Charges Nehru Enemy of White Men

CAPETOWN, South Africa (CP)—Prime Minister Daniel Malan says Indian Premier Jawaharlal Nehru is "the enemy of the white man."

He also attacked the "utter stupidity" of the United Nations, and listed UN interference as continental Africa's greatest present danger.

In a foreign policy speech Tuesday in the House of Assembly, the Nationalist party leader threatened to lead his country out of the UN Educational, Scientific and Cultural Organization if UNESCO made any more "serious attacks" on South Africa's internal policy.

The Malan government's policy of "apartheid" (segregation of natives) has long been under attack in the United Nations, and from Nehru.

Malan listed the dangers threatening Africa as United Nations interference, direct or indirect; Communism and India.

SICKLY SENTIMENTALITY

He said a psychological revolution would have to take place in facing up to these dangers. There was in the world generally, and particularly in Britain, a sickly sentimentality about the black man, he said.

Malan dealt specifically with a United Nations decision that it was wrong in principle to maintain native reserves in southwest Africa.

"My reply to that," he said, "is to ask what the Ovambos (a tribe living on reserves) would say about it. Must we break up the reserves and allow Europeans to enter them freely?"

It is time, he said, for South Africa to "protect her natives against the United Nations" and called the UN admonishment "an example of the utter stupidity of United Nations decisions."

$25,000 for Grants Allocated by Council

City Conucil has set aside $25,000 in order to provide grants for charitable and other purposes during the year.

Its decision terminated a long argument Tuesday afternoon. At first aldermen tangled as to what was a charity and what was not, then—without deciding the issue—argued how much they should set aside for making grants "charitable and otherwise."

Council made no attempt to go into the question of what to do with the 18 requests for aid submitted since the first of the year. They expected other requests would be in soon and decided to deal with them all later.

COMMITTEE ASKED

Ald. William Pinfold recommended a special committee be set up to decide on the individual requests.

Council's provisional budget provided $4,750 for three charitable grants and $21,005 for 15 special grants. These, however, had never been passed by council. They represented solely what had been asked for up until the time the budget was printed.

Ald. Geoffrey Edgelow raised the matter of what distinguished a charitable from a special grant. He suggested that when voters balloted on the matter of charitable grants last December they were not bound by any legal definition but considered it meant all worthwhile causes.

VOTED BY CITIZENS

In the December voting, citizens voted 5,256 to 4,255 in favor of allowing council to spend an amount up to $25,000 annually for charitable purposes.

Ald. Arthur Dowell moved the $25,000 figure be set aside this year. Ald. Robert Macmillan moved an amendment that the figure be $15,000. Ald. Brent Murdoch offered an amendment to the amendment that it be $20,000.

The $25,000 figure carried with the mayor, Ald. Murdoch and Ald. Macmillan voting against.

Biggest item on the council's "waiting list" is a request from the Greater Victoria Arts Centre for $8,765. The Victoria Symphony Society has asked for $3,000; the Home for Aged and Infirm Women, $3,750; the Sara Spencer Foundation, $2,100, and the YWCA, $2,500.

Nike, Supersonic Guided Missile, To Defend Seattle

SEATTLE (AP)—Nike, the army's first supersonic anti-aircraft guided missile, will be used in defence of the Seattle area, it was announced Tuesday by Col. Edward B. Hempstead, the commander of the army's 31st Anti-aircraft Artillery Brigade.

Col. Hempstead said some missile launching and control sites now are being prepared at bases established in mathematically determined positions.

The wonder weapon, approximately 20 feet long and a foot in diameter, has 1,500,000 parts in its complex body which will follow and destroy an enemy target regardless of evasive twists and turns.

City Man Elected By Toastmasters

Gordon Williscroft, Victoria, has been named governor of District 21, Toastmasters' Clubs, that will hold speaking contests in Nanaimo May 8.

Lieutenant-governors are N. L. Corfield, Nanaimo, and Robin Dick, Vancouver.

Area representatives at the convention will be Ed Green, Thunderbird Club, Victoria; R. J. Watts, Vancouver; and Glen Hall, up-Island.

Salvation Army Campaign Opens In Nanaimo

NANAIMO—Public support of the Salvation Army drive to raise funds to remodel Nanaimo Citadel was asked by Mayor George Muir at a flag-raising ceremony Monday.

The Salvation Army banner was raised under the Union Jack at City Hall.

"It would be difficult to find another organization more deserving of public support than the Salvation Army," Mayor Muir said.

Ald. E. Hall, Mrs. Alan Hall, Lamont Ross and R. Fawdry, who is also campaign chairman, attended the ceremony.

The Army was represented by Col. G. W. Peacock, OBE, Vancouver, and Capt. E. Reed, Nanaimo. A one-night collection blitz is planned for residential areas May 10. Canvassers are collecting in the business district here at present.

Major Cliff Milley, Victoria Salvation Army, will organize drives in other parts of the Island for funds to assist rebuilding of the Citadel. Since the Nanaimo branch will serve from Duncan to Courtenay, the campaign should be more widespread, Major Milley stated.

The Red Shield campaign received another boost when Miss Ennis Moor, on behalf of Eaton's charitable fund, presented a $100 bill to Col. Peacock and Capt. Reed.

Penticton, Vancouver Oarsmen Coming for May 24 Regatta

Rowing teams from Penticton, Vancouver and the University of B.C. will compete against Victoria's James Bay Athletic Association at a Gorge regatta to be staged May 24.

The navy will provide a number of whaler crews for competition in the races.

There will be no Indian war canoe races this year, owing to budget restrictions of the celebrations' association.

This year's May 24 program will get under way on Saturday, May 22, with the crowning of "Miss Victoria" on the steps of the Parliament Buildings. She will be the winner of the current beauty contest at the B.C. Products Fair.

Sunday, May 23, a pageant will be staged in Royal Athletic Park under sponsorship of the Fraternal Order of Eagles. About 800 persons are expected to take part.

Outside contingents will include the 100-piece Bellingham School Band, the 48-piece Aberdeen Bugle Band and Seattle Police Drill Team.

Events scheduled for May 24 include a street parade, motorcycle rodeo, motorboat races, horse show and fireworks

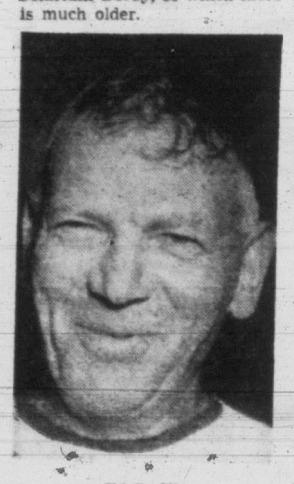
IT'S MY VIEW

By BILL WALKER, Sports Editor

This was caller's day in the cubicle allotted for such things.

And the first visitor was one who should always be welcomed, for the work he has done and is doing for the young is tremendous.

It was Ed Duffin, with whom we are pleased to be associated in any endeavor, especially the Anglers-Times Solarium Derby, of which more will be heard ere the summer is much older.



Ed Duffin

But this wasn't the usual Ed Duffin who stepped through the portal. It was a grim, serious-faced man with a heavy heart. Ed the day before had returned from Vancouver where the B.E.G. games' boxing trials reputedly were held. Never one to lean on a crying towel, Ed asked only for fair play. And apparently the selection committee for the games' team ignored the request.

In Ed's words here's the beef and it has our blessing:

"The B.E.G. boxing trials recently held in Vancouver were the biggest farce ever enacted by men sworn to uphold the great ideals of amateur boxing.

"Some of those officials—and they were in the majority and so controlled the voting — had the stupid audacity to select boys to go east who had never laced on a glove. These BCABA officials had decided long before what boys would go east . . . they offered last-minute excuses why Vancouver boys could not compete in Victoria . . . their own trials held last Thursday were so hush-hush there wasn't even a medical examination or weigh-in."

As examples of his statement that "BCABA officials haven't the qualifications to be in control of hop-scotch games in kiddies' playgrounds," Ed continued:

". . . Earl Vance beat Buddy Pearson twice and yet Pearson goes east without having on a glove in the trials. (Vance wasn't picked).

". . . Bill Stone (also chosen) didn't go through the trials.

". . . Gordie McDonald was beaten and yet picked.

". . . Jackie O'Neil (Victoria) won his fight. Norm Jorgenson knew it. He even congratulated Jackie before the decision was given the other way. But Jackie was not wanted.

". . . These officials admitted Bert Wilkinson's fight with Kupchak in the Golden Gloves was one of the worst decisions ever made in amateur boxing, but they 'couldn't do a thing about it'."

Who Stands and Who Stoops?

Ed closed by saying that it was a foregone conclusion that Victoria boxers were not to have a place on the team, and offers a quotation for the boxing brass to study if they will:

"No man ever stands so straight as when he stoops to help a boy."

However, as Ed says, the opposite applies in this case:

"No man ever stoops so low as when he stoops to hurt a boy."

Certainly Ed has a point, judging from activities of the past as we have been associated with them, and boxing will never benefit under such administration.

★ ★ ★

There were other visitors, too, this day, and it was a pleasure to learn that Ed Ash and Lorne Buchanan of the Senior Amateur League Farmer Construction nine are planning several exhibition games this summer against top-flight visiting teams.

Their objective is to provide Victoria with a high class of amateur ball and, in return, ask only the support of the baseball public in their endeavor.

★ ★ ★

Joe Travis then dropped in and wanted to refute a point made in another medium of this type. Said Joe, who has been picked to play for both Vancouver and Victoria all-star teams against the touring Glasgow Rangers on their visit here later this month:

"I'm not going to play in three games, as has been implied; it isn't fair to the other fellows. I'll play for Vancouver if I make the team (a certainty as Joe is the only goalie picked) and I'm willing to act as spare in Victoria and will play if needed. But let someone else have the honor. It could be their only chance, and I wouldn't want to take it away from them."

Kinsmen Blank Elks, Lead L'il League Race

Kinsmen 17, Elks 0

Lefthander Brian Usher hurled a neat three-hitter as American League leading Kinsmen whitewashed Elks, 17-0, in Little League baseball action at Little League Park Tuesday night.

Usher was ine fine form as he issued only three walks and whiffed nine in the six-inning game to post the victory. He was given solid support by his mates, who clubbed three Elks' hurlers for 14 hits.

HILL GETS THREE

Dave Hill paced the winners at the plate with three doubles, while Jim Blackstock pounded out one two-base hit and two singles. Doug Gilmore and Usher each connected for two hits.

Terry Rendle picked up two safeties for the losers, the other hit going to Jim Galley.

Rotary and Odd Fellows of the National League are scheduled to provide the action tonight, meeting at 6.30.

Line-score follows:

Kinsmen	403 270—17	14	2
Elks	000 000— 0	3	5

Brian Usher and Doug Gilmore, Timbers (4); Barry Hitchens, Bobby Moss (3, Squires (6) and Terry Rendle.

Kid Gavilan To Defend Title

PHILADELPHIA (AP)—Kid Gavilan will defend his welterweight boxing championship against Johnny Saxton at Connie Mack Stadium here during the latter part of June or early July, promoter Herman Taylor announced Tuesday.

The bout will be Gavilan's first title defense since Nov. 13, 1953, when he defeated Johnny Bratton in Chicago. The Cuban Kid recently lost a decision to Bobo Olson in an effort to win the middleweight crown.

MINOR BASEBALL

Hagel's Chesterfield of the under-14 Baseball League walloped Esquimalt Eagles, 20-6, in a league game Tuesday night. Dave Ringland of Hagel's hit a home run.

TAKE LEAD IN PUCK PLAYOFF

Stamps Wallop Aces

CALGARY (CP) — Calgary Stampeders, champions of the Western Hockey League, thumped a somewhat befuddled Quebec Aces squad 8-1 before close to 8,000 fans Tuesday night to take the first game of their best-of-nine series for the Edinburgh Trophy. This is the first year the trophy has been up for competition.

Second game of the series will be played here Thursday night and the third at Edmonton Saturday night.

The game was a lack-lustre affair although Stampeders were full value for their win.

Steve Black led the scoring parade with two goals. Singletons were scored by Johnny Michaluk, Sid Finney, Jim McFadden, Steve Witiuk, Archie Scott and Frank Ashworth.

The lone Quebec goal was scored by Adam Brown in the first period.

The Stampeders, who Saturday won the WHL title by eliminating Vancouver Canucks, went without two of their ace centres, Pat Lundy and Ray Barry. Lundy, out with a heel injury, is expected to return to action at the weekend. Barry is out for the season with a stomach ailment.

Aces, champions of the Quebec hockey circuit, had Jack Gelineau in the nets, but he was unable to stem the Stampeders forwards. Lorne Nadeau and Bill Burega were missing from the Quebec line-up.

Michaluk put Stampeders into the lead early in the first period but Brown got the equalizer about the midway mark. After that it was all Calgary.

Stampeders tore into Quebec territory for three goals in the second period and four more in the final 20 minutes.

The officials handed out four penalties and two figured in the goal-scoring.

In the shots-on-goal department, Brennan kicked out 18 attempts and Gelineau stopped 20.

Fletchers Take Softball Lead

Fletchers 8, Students 4

Cec Fletcher's Men's Shop took over sole possession of first place in the Senior A Men's Softball League Tuesday night at Central Park by beating the still winless Chinese Students 8-4 before a half-frozen crowd.

Two newcomers to this part of the softball world opened on the mound. Wally Borgens, who hurled in the Vancouver South Hill League last year, took the slab for Students, but he had trouble with his control and gave way to Jimmy Chan.

Big Ed Foychuk was coach Joe Bryant's selection. The man with the fancy pitches had trouble in the first inning but he was getting better as the game wore on. He retired in favor of Ken Gunter in the eighth inning after giving up only three hits. Foychuk did his pitching for Shaughnessy-Cadillac of Lethbridge last year.

Fletcher's scored three runs in the first inning on five walks and a single by Jimmy Morrison, but Students got two back in their half of the inning on a walk and singles by Bernie Sam and Tommy Der.

The losers took the lead in the last of the second when outfielder Ross Valliere misjudged a long fly hit by Bernie Sam. By the time he recovered the ball, Sam had chased Eddie Lou around to home plate.

THREE-RUN BLOW

Bill Reynolds, Fletcher's third baseman, jumped his team in to the lead again in the third he clouted a three-run homer.

With the two-run lead restored, Foychuk settled down. He went from the third to the seventh inning, facing only 19 batters and he struck out six.

GOOD CATCHES

Several good catches were made. Jimmy Morrison was robbed of hits when Quinton Mar skidded into a one-handed catch of his high fly behind short, while Tommy Der ran a country mile to gather in another Morrison poke.

Senior A action returns to Central Park on Thursday night when Duncan makes its initial appearance of the season against Arrow Furniture at 6.30.

Pilseners Trample Native Sons

Pilseners 13, Sons 7

VANCOUVER (CP) — The hustling Vancouver Pilseners picked up their first win of the inter-city lacrosse season with a rugged 13-7 victory over the visiting Nanaimo Native Sons before 1,500 fans.

Led by captain Jack Byford, who picked up two goals and three assists, the Pils romped to their first win of the season in a game that was marked with penalties as the referees thumbed 22 men into the box.

Nanaimo opened the scoring after one minute and 43 seconds of play, but from then on it was the Pils' show and they ran the visitors into the floor in a great display of passing and checking.

The Pils held a 5-1 lead at the end of the first period, were up 8-3 at the half, pushed it to 11-4 at the three-way mark and added two more counters in the final frame for their final score of 13-7.

Veteran Elmer Buchanan, rookie Barry Pfaff, Fred Aspin and Art Bowes were other Pils marksmen who sniped a pair of goals. Ed Hanson, Bob Marsh and Jack McKinnon each got single goals.

Burly Johnny Lumley, the Nanaimo "badman," was top sniper for the losers as he hit for two goals. Single goals went to import Barney Welch, ex-coach Arnie Duggan, Vern Vannatter, Jim Heffernan and Don Sherry.

Grudge Bouts Highlight Grunt Card

Apparently, being thrown bodily from the ring doesn't go over too well with principles in local wrestling cards.

Of the four matches scheduled at Victoria Ballroom Thursday night, two are grudge rematches, both instigated by matmen being tossed out on their ears.

The main event is an Australian tag-team bout and the semi-main matches Danno McDonald with Scotty Williams, the Flying Scot.

Clare Robinson and Bud Rutal meet in the other half of the semi-main event, the bout being a grudge match in which both hope to settle some old scores.

The opener at 8.30 is between Glen Fox of San Fernando and local star Keith Hollett. Hollett pitched Fox out of the ring in their last meeting and Fox appealed to the local wrestling commission for the rematch.

Allan Cup Final Resumes Tonight

VERNON, B.C. (CP)—This fruit-growing centre in British Columbia's lush Okanagan Valley prepared for an invasion today as they play host to the titans of Canada's amateur hockey ranks.

Sudbury Wolves and Penticton V's meet here tonight in the second game of the best-of-seven series for the Allan Cup, symbol of senior amateur hockey supremacy. Sudbury took the opener 2-1 on Penticton ice Monday.

British Davis Cup Tennis Team Named

LONDON (AP)—Three veterans and a youngster have been named to the British Davis Cup team which meets Brazil at Eastbourne May 13-15.

The youngster is 18-year-old Billy Knight, Britain's most promising player since the early days of Fred Perry. Knight, a big, strong left-hander, won the Australian junior championship in January.

Veterans named were Tony Mottram, Geoff Paish and Gerald Oakley. That trio made up the 1953 team which lost in the third round.

Canadians Win

ROME (AP)—Bob Bedard of Sherbrooke, Que., pulled the first surprise of the Italian tennis tournament today by beating seventh-seeded Sven Davidson of Sweden, 11-9, 6-3, 6-2.

It was the second upset achieved by Bedard in two days. Tuesday he beat the favored Brazilian, A. Moreira, in straight sets.

Lorne Main of Toronto and Vancouver beat Malcolm Fox, Baltimore, in a second-round match, 5-7, 6-1, 6-3, 6-1.

Tyees Win Again, But Braves Tough

Lake Sparks Winning Rally; Bottler Here

Victoria 9, Tri-City 8

By BILL WALKER

A good ball game blew up in the late innings Tuesday night, but Victoria Tyees held tough to win their second straight home encounter of the WIL season from Tri-City Braves.

Young Larry Richardson of the Braves walked catcher Milt Martin of the Tyees with the bases loaded and none out in the ninth inning to give the Tyees a 9-8 decision.

And it was just as wild and wooly as the last inning would indicate once Tri-City made their move against Tyees' Hal Flinn who went out under fire in the eighth.

The Tyees were off and running in the second inning when they produced four runs to give Flinn a working margin. And it seemed enough at the time as Flinn himself was working on a no-hitter until the fifth.

The big blow of the inning was a two-run double by Martin following a walk to Steve Mesner, a single by Eddie Lake, a walk to Joe Joshua and a sacrifice fly by Dain Clay. Ron Jackson drove Martin home with a single.

Tyees added a fifth tally in the fourth when Martin singled and Jackson tripled to the left field corner.

It Mattered Then, But Not Later

Two relatively cheap singles deprived Flinn of all chance for his no-hitter in the fifth, but it wasn't to matter long. Des Charouhas ground a single past Mesner at third for the first blow and ex-Tyee Bob Moniz topped a weakly hit ball down third that refused to roll foul for the second. Charouhas later scored on a fielder's choice.

Tyees got that one back in their half of the fifth when Mesner was safe on an error by Tran and eventually scored on Clay's infield force play as the Tyees led 5-1.

Then, for Flinn, the roof proceded to sag.

The Braves took advantage of errors by Joshua and Jackson, ably supplemented by Charouhas' double and singles by Savarese, Vic Buccola and Len Tran to score three runs. They added another in the eighth when Ray Tran singled home Charouhas. Then Flinn departed in favor of Mike Kanshin who stopped the Braves short of tying the score.

Leading 6-5, the Tyees again appeared to be home free when they scored twice in the eighth on singles by Kanshin, Jackson, a base on balls to Pries and an infield out.

Jackson scored all the way from second for the second run as the Braves elected to try for a double play on Perez' ground ball.

Tit for Tat; Bottler Works Tonight

However, the Braves weren't through, though trailing 8-5.

Buccola singled to open the ninth and Kanshin promptly walked Len Tran and Jack Warren to load the bases. When Rube Johnson singled home Buccola and Tran, Kanshin gave way to Berlyn Hodges.

Hodges had his troubles, too. After getting Charouhas on a sacrifice, he walked Moniz to fill the hassocks once more. Ray Tran popped out, but Ernie Hockaday, batting for pitcher Ted Savarese, drew a base on balls to force in the tying run.

The shoe was on the other foot in the last of the ninth as the Tyees came storming back. Lake led off with a single and all hands were safe when Richardson threw wildly to first on Joshua's sacrifice. Only a smart back-up play by Terry Carroll of the Chiefs prevented the Tyees from winning the game then and there.

Clay followed by beating out an infield bunt to load the bases. Then Robertson threw four straight balls to Martin.

That was the ball game.

And Bill Bottler, who arrived Tuesday from Portland of the Coast League, probably hopes it won't be so tense tonight as he gets his first start for the Tyees.

At least he'll be looking forward to some help from the big bat of Lake, who Tuesday got four for four, including a triple, and touched off the game-winning rally in the ninth.

Stamps Willing To Return

CALGARY (BUP)—The Calgary Stampeders refuse to be struck out of the Western International Baseball League.

President Bus Lacy said Tuesday night that there is every indication that the cowboys will be back in the league at Spokane next Saturday.

League president Bob Abel lifted the Calgary franchise last week after the Stamps failed to put up a $10,000 bond to guarantee future operations.

Lacey said Abel is having trouble re-allocating the franchise and that the league will probably turn a kind ear to suggestions that the team remain in the stampede city.

Says Lacey: "If the other clubs will live up to their promise of helping us, we'll be willing to go back in."

A group of Calgary supporters met at Buffalo Stadium last night. They left with books of tickets which they guaranteed to sell in order to help promote the game.

Hungary Netters Win

BUDAPEST (AP)—Hungary defeated New Zealand 3-2 Tuesday to advance into the second round of the European zone Davis Cup tennis tournament. Hungary next will meet Germany in Budapest May 14-16.

Joszef Asboth, 37-year-old Hungarian champion, won the first singles match of the day, defeating John A. Barry, 26-year-old New Zealand champion, 6-4, 7-5, 6-2.

Radio, But No TV For Heavy Title Bout

NEW YORK (AP)—The heavyweight title bout between champion Rocky Marciano and Ezzard Charles at Yankee Stadium June 17 will be broadcast on radio.

President Jim Norris of the Interntional Boxing Club made the announcement Tuesday. The bout will not be telecast into the homes but will be sent over a closed circuit into certain U.S. theatres.

AT HOME ON LAND OR SEA

Aussie Aces Rank With World's Best

BY GORDON TAIT

SYDNEY (AP)—Australians believe they have the fastest sprinters in the world today, both on the running tracks and in the water. They are even more confident that in Marjorie Jackson, Olympic champion and world record holder, they also have the fastest short distance woman runner.

Two young men who have joined Marjorie this year in the front row of the world's best sprinters are swimmer Jon Henricks, a school boy of 18, and Brisbane's track flier, Hector Hogan, a 22-year-old.

THREATENS RECORD

Henricks has been making such times in 55-yard and 50-metre pools in Australia this year that many believe he will crack American Alan Ford's 100-metre world record of 55.4 seconds the first time he dives into a 25-metre pool.

But if Henricks is not the fastest swimmer in the world today, most Australians believe his countryman, Rex Aubrey, has that distinction. Aubrey is studying at Yale University, but will be at the Empire Games in Vancouver this summer.

Flying Hec Hogan in one Saturday afternoon recently equalled the world record of 9.3 seconds, for 100 yards, and 10.2 for 100 metres. The latter time is most unlikely to count as a record as it was by way of being a handicap race of men and women—the men running 100 metres to the girls' 100 yards.

Hogan was—and still is—a broad jumper. At 17 he took on sprinting, too, and just three years later took the 1952 Australian 100-yard championship.

At the time many claimed he had beaten the starter's gun to "get a fly." Several days later, John Treloar reversed the decision in a special race at Sydney to win a place in the 1952 Olympic team.

Hogan retained the national 100-yard title in 1953 and again won this year in the Australian record time of 9.5. At the last championships he also took the 220-yard and broad jump titles.

HENRICKS' RISE RAPID

Henricks' progress to the position of one of the great swimming sprinters ever has been rapid. In the 1951-52 season he had to pay his own expenses from Sydney to Melbourne to compete in the Australian championships. He did well in junior events.

Henricks trained through the subsequent winter and slowly adjusted himself from a long-distance swimmer to a sprinter. January 10, 1953, he clocked 59 seconds for 110 yards. Last August, he became the first non-Japanese to win the 100 and 200 metres championships of Japan.

In Melbourne recently he turned in an amazing lone-effort 110-yard swim of 56.2 seconds for a 55-yard pool. That swim compares with the Olympic record of 57.1 for 100 metres—two feet shorter than 110 yards.

Alan Ford's 100-metre world record of 55.4 seconds was made in a 25-metre pool in June, 1948. That was the advantage of three turns in 100 metres, which swimmers agree is a great advantage.

Edmonton Oil Kings Receive Cool Reception in Toronto

TORONTO (CP)—Edmonton Oil Kings breezed into Toronto Tuesday to a reception nearly as cool as the chilly winds that preceded them from the west.

"There wasn't anybody on hand to meet us at the station," said team manager Leo LeClerc a few hours after Oil Kings arrived.

The train arrived eight hours late because of heavy snow in northern Ontario but LeClerc said "the CAHA sent for us and you'd think they would know what time we got in."

Oil Kings will meet either St. Catharines TeePees or Quebec Frontenacs for the Memorial Cup and Canadian junior hockey title. The best-of-seven series in the Eastern Canada finals now stands at 2-2.

LeClerc also said Oil Kings had to make their own arrangements for ice for practices.

"We had to do our own scurrying around to line up ice," he commented. "We arranged to use Weston, a Toronto suburb arena, but the facilities there aren't too good."

PRIES WOWS KIWANIS LUNCHERS

By DENNY BOYD

Tyees Turn Down .700 Hitter

Enthusiasm can be one of the most valuable assets in a ball player, Tyee manager Don Pries told a Kiwanis Club luncheon meeting Tuesday.

However, Pries amended, even enthusiasm can be overdone.

Pries illustrated his point with an experience which he said recently befell him.

A gentleman approached Pries in his hotel and said, "Mr. Pries, I have a great prospect for your ball club. He's my son and I would like you to give him a tryout."

Pries, tickled to have a player delivered right to the hotel, followed the gentleman to the lobby to see the "prospect."

The new find proved to be a young lad, no older than 13.

Pries, rather embarrassed and not wishing to offend his would-be benefactor, hinted that the youngster might be a little green for the Western International League.

"Oh, no," said the boy, "I'm ready right now. You can put me on your ball club and you'll see I'm ready."

Pries decided to go along with the ambitious boy and said, "What was your record last year and where did you play?"

"I played in the Little League last year and I hit .700," was the answer.

Pries' hair stood on end when he heard the fabulous batting average and he pressed the youngster for details.

"Well," said the boy proudly, "I'm a switch hitter and I hit .350 batting right and .350 batting left. That's .700, isn't it?

Getting into a more serious frame of mind, Pries told the Kiwanians that the Victoria ball club was in the entertainment business.

Pries said the players are here to entertain Victoria's sports fans and it was up to them to see to it the entertainment is of the best quality.

He cited the many ways in which a ball team can be of value to a city and said that this year's club was resolved to be "a good source of publicity for Victoria all over the rest of the league."

In summing up his team, Pries said, "We have a lot of young players who want to use Victoria as a stepping stone to higher leagues. And our veterans are old only in experience; they are young in desire, stamina and ability."

FISH NOT BITING, BUT ALLIGATORS FRIENDLY

WEXFORD, Ont. (BUP)—Brian McMullen, a carpenter, went fishing and caught an alligator.

McMullen said he was returning home from an unsuccessful fishing trip when the reptile crawled up to his truck.

"I caught it by the tail and it twisted around and snapped at me," he said. "I was scared, but I hung on until someone found a rope and we put a noose around its jaws and hauled it home to my fruit cellar."

Naturalists said the four-foot, 30-pound alligator probably was someone's pet that escaped. McMullen said whoever owned it was welcome to come and get it.

"I can't afford to feed it," he said.

Come Snow, Pirates Or Both—Braves Play

When you're in last place and you've got a team in town you think you can beat, you play the game even if it snows.

That seems to be the current theory in Milwaukee. The Braves, who have had a rough time this spring, beat Pittsburgh 6-1 Tuesday night in a game interrupted in the sixth inning by a miniature blizzard.

The victory pulled the Braves out of last place in the National League and dropped the Pirates to the bottom.

NEAR FREEZING

Although the temperature was within five degrees of freezing at game time, 12,838 of the Milwaukee faithful paid their way into the park and had such a good time during the snow that they serenaded the chilled players with "Jingle Bells."

The wintry blasts knocked three other games from Tuesday's schedule and rain washed out a fourth. It was too cold for Brooklyn at Chicago and New York at Cincinnati in the National; too cold and wet for Baltimore at New York and too wet for Detroit at Boston in the American League.

In games that were played, Chicago White Sox increased their American League lead to a game and a half over Detroit by whipping Washington 8-6.

FOUR STRAIGHT

Bob Trice won his fourth straight as Philadelphia shaded Cleveland 3-2, and Philadelphia Phillies whipped St. Louis 14-10 in 11 innings. The Phils poured across four runs in the 11th.

The Phils-Cardinals struggle ran four hours 31 minutes, finished up in the early hours of this morning and saw a major league record set for the total number of pitchers.

PITCHERS GALORE

The two clubs tossed 15 assorted pitchers into the marathon, starting with two of the league's best—Harvey Haddix and Robin Roberts—and winding up with Hal White for the Cards and Murry Dickson for the Phils.

Dickson got the credit, his fourth success against one loss since moving to the Phils from the Pirates.

Warren Spahn struck out 12 pirates in the Milwaukee triumph.

OPERATION CAMPY

BROOKLYN (AP) — Roy Campanella, Brooklyn Dodgers' slugging catcher, underwent a successful operation Tuesday for the removal of a bone chip in his left hand.

Two Western Horses in Plate Entry.

TORONTO (CP)—The field for the 95th running of the Queen's Plate has been reduced to 43 colts and fillies.

The Ontario Jockey Club said today that final payment of $100 to keep horses eligible for the June 12 race was due last week-end. Last year 35 owners made the May 1 payment.

The Queen's Plate, Canada's top turf event, offers a prize of a $20,000-added purse and 50 guineas. It is run over a 1⅛-mile course.

There were few surprises amoung the scratches. The western Canada contingent was reduced to two horses. Only Hi Laude, owned by Dr. L. H. Appleby of Vancouver and Mr. Speaker, owned by Attorney-General Lucien Maynard of Alberta, are still on the west's list.

HONOLULU—Ramon Fuentes, 147¾, Los Angeles, outpointed Frank Fernandez, 146¼, Honolulu (10).

GENEVA PARLEY RESTS TWO DAYS

Time Will Allow West to Unify Views on Peace for the Orient

By K. C. THALER, United Press Staff Correspondent

GENEVA (UP)—The Far East conference voted a two-day recess Tuesday night, giving the western nations a chance to unify their views on plans for peace in Korea and Indo-China.

The conference has been virtually paralyzed by western differences, while the Communist bloc has stood firm behind its own proposals.

There was a deadlock on Korea. The Red-sponsored North Koreans have proposed unification based on Communist-controlled elections and withdrawal of foreign troops within six months.

The West has been unable to provide an alternative plan of its own. Everything hung fire while the United States and its United Nations allies pressed South Korean President Syngman Rhee's government to agree to a compromise plan for all-Korean elections as one key toward unification.

NO LEAD GIVEN

On Indo-China the western allies searched vainly for a peace plan that would not involve partition or surrender to the Communists. Neither the United States nor Great Britain would take the lead, and the French delegation awaited word from Paris.

The decision to recess for two days came after Canadian External Affairs Minister Lester Pearson issued a grim warning that failure to agree here might plunge the world into a new conflict that "would engulf and destroy us all."

ACTION DEMANDED

It followed, too, an appeal from the Netherlands to put an end to the name-calling and speeches and get down to real cases.

After one secret meeting and seven plenary sessions the deadlock on Korea was complete, although the way was cleared to start the Indo-China peace talks—probably next Monday.

The Indo-China talks will go on simultaneously with those on Korea.

All the Communists have spoken on the Korean issue, as have the United States and several other western powers. But the remaining nations in the allied camp, including Britain and France, are not ready to give their views.

CONCEAL DISUNITY

Rather than show up the West's disunity in public, the 16 U.N. nations have let the Korean debate drag on without any concrete proposals from their side. A nine-nation drafting committee tried to iron out their disagreements while the United States and others applied pressure on the ROK group.

Thus, when Prince Wan Waithayakon of Thailand, who was in the chair, announced that nobody else wanted to speak today or for the next two days, the lack of western initiative indicated a recess.

"I suggest the time could be usefully spent," he said, "in informal discussions to clarify and bring closer together the different points of view."

He proposed the next plenary session be held Friday. The conference agreed.

Fifty Nations Plan Talks

Dr. George Davidson, federal deputy minister of welfare, third from right, chairman of the UN social and cultural committee, meets a group of University of Toronto students to discuss plans for the International Conference of Social Work in Toronto next month, at which 2,500 delegates are expected to represent 50 nations. Students above are from Malaya, India and South Korea.

Laniel Stakes Regime on Indo-China Vote

PARIS (Reuters) — Premier Joseph Laniel Tuesday night staked the future of his government on a vote of confidence on his handling of the war in Indo-China.

The Radical Socialist (moderate) party, which holds four posts in Laniel's coalition cabinet, demanded an early debate on the Indo-China war.

Laniel said the debate should be postponed until a more favorable moment and said the question of postponing it would be put as a vote of confidence. The vote will be taken Thursday afternoon.

The Radical Socialists, supported by dissident Gaullists, apparently take the view that a debate now, despite its consequences for the government, is preferable to waiting until the possible fall of Dien Bien Phu, French fortress besieged by the Viet Minh Communists.

Lorne Campbell, Accountant, Dead

Lorne W. Campbell, 61, well-known city business man, died suddenly at his 2835 Lansdowne Road home Monday afternoon.

Mr. Campbell, who settled in Victoria in 1923, was connected for 31 years with the lumber industry. He was formerly chief accountant of the B.C. Forest Products Ltd.

He was a veteran of the First World War, having served with the army, and later with the Royal Air Force. He was one of the city's senior golfers and was for many years a member of the Royal Colwood Golf Club.

MAJ. H. J. MARTIN

Salvation Army Asks Aid for Social Work

Calling for help in Victoria today is a man who has spent 30 years helping others, Major H. J. Martin, superintendent of social work for the Salvation Army in Victoria.

He wants help, not for himself but for the hundreds of men, often tired, broke and sometimes desperate, who are his guests at the Salvation Army Men's Hostel on Johnson Street.

He asks that Victorians dig deep in support of the current Red Shield Drive so he may maintain the reputation of the hostel in never turning away a man in need of help.

"We do turn away troublemakers once in awhile," the major admitted, and he looked stern when he said it, but he spends more time trying to reclaim "troublemakers" than possibly anyone else in Victoria.

COURT VISITOR

He is in and out of jail and police court daily.

Many a down-and-outer who has awakened in jail and thought he was facing the end of the line has found a fresh start through the efforts of the kindly major who was there to greet him when the steel doors opened.

In a case like that, a man gets a free bed, a few warm meals, clothing if necessary and probably a job, because Major Martin runs a free employment agency for his "boys" as well.

If the man is from out of town and wants to go home to his family, Major Martin manages to dig up boat or train fare and solve that problem too.

EVERYTHING CLEAN

His hostel, as he says, is "no flop house," although paying guests are charged only 50 cents nightly.

With the help of his lodgers, he manages to keep the floors waxed, the washroom tile spotless. At present, he is "overseeing" a crew of carpenters who are giving the hostel a $50,000 face-lifting. As well as a modernized exterior, the building is to be fitted with a new chapel, 16 individual rooms in place of old dormitories and new paint throughout.

"Maybe someday soon, we'll have our own kitchen," he says. At present, a hungry man gets a meal ticket which is honored at nearby cafes.

The major recalls the "hungry thirties," when the hostel did have a kitchen, a "soup kitchen."

ONLY PLACE OPEN

When the unemployed relief camp strikers trekked here in '35, workers at the hostel handed out soup at the front door daily. "We were the only place open to them and they had the run of it," the major recalls.

An Imperial Army veteran with four years in the artillery in France behind him, Major Martin says he was "born in the Salvation Army." His parents were both officers. When the smoke of the First World War cleared, it was the only job he wanted to do.

Since then, his appointments in Vancouver, Victoria, Hamilton, Edmonton and London have all been in work with men.

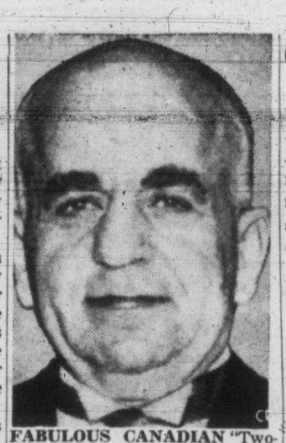
Last week, he says, he knelt in prayer with a man who had been on the verge of suicide. The major gave him comfort, then a boat ticket to go back to his wife. He says the man is straightened away now. "Wouldn't you be happy?" he asks.

13,000 Drivers Lose Licenses

During 1953 the superintendent of motor vehicles suspended driving privileges of 12,849 motorists throughout B.C., the majority for failing to maintain proof of financial responsibility, that is, insurance. More than 9,000 people came into this category.

Licenses of 1,121 were suspended on recommendation of magistrates and by court orders; 1,279 for failure to appear for driving examinations, and 1,182 for failure to qualify in an examination.

Since May 1, 1953, 319 drivers have been suspended for poor driving records. Of this group, 209 were under 30 years of age.



FABULOUS CANADIAN "Two-Gun Cohen who was once right-hand man to Generalissimo Chiang Kai-shek, is in Geneva seeking to renew acquaintances with some old China hands attending the Korea and Indo-China conference. Now a general, Morris Abraham Cohen, 66, was born in London and came to Canada in 1902 as a boy. He farmed in Alberta and picked up a smattering of Chinese dialect in the Chinese colony at Edmonton. Later he went to China at the request of Dr. Sun Yat-sen, founder of modern China, and became the friend and confidante of many influential Chinese.

600 GI Drug Addicts Held in One of Five Tokyo Jails

TOKYO (UP)—The U.S. army today disclosed the shocking figures on drug addiction by American servicemen in Japan, revealing that more than 600 men were confined in the Tokyo stockade alone in 1953 on narcotics charges.

The figure, the army said, did not include five other military stockades in Japan which also handle servicemen arrested for drug violations.

The figures on addiction among the armed forces in Japan were given before a meeting of Far East Command psychiatrists by Capt. Peter Ungvarski of the Tokyo stockade.

The officer said the army's 1953 narcotics survey revealed that most of the young servicemen (average age 21 to 23) were introduced to the drug habit by their own buddies.

In one instance reported in Chitose, Northern Hokkaido, he said, drug peddlers were offering a free "shot" to addicts if they brought in two other servicemen for narcotics.

The officer said heroin was was the most popular form of narcotics used by the servicemen, with morphine, opium and cocaine trailing in popularity.

Wall Street Wonders About Laggard Stocks

Rise in Rails Seen as Starter

By ELMER C. WALZER
United Press Financial Editor

NEW YORK (UP)—The long rise in the stock market in which the blue chips starred and many issues lagged far behind is a result of institutional buying, according to the exchange firm of Francis I. Du Pont & Co.

What public interest has appeared has concentrated its buying in the same issues the institutions bought, the firm adds.

While blue chips rose, often to new record highs, numerous issues remained not only below their 1946 tops but also beneath their peaks of 1951-54, the firm notes.

It finds that there has been a deviation in outside buying recently — namely in the rails, atomic issues and aircrafts—all stocks which the institutions have shunned.

The recent advance in rails, the Du Pont firm finds, has strengthened the over-all technical position of the market, and secondly, it provides a clue "that the more laggard groups may be more popular in future markets."

The foregoing has set market gossipers to gossiping.

MANY QUESTIONS

They want to know if the institutions are smarter than other stock buyers or merely accumulating stocks because they don't know what else to do with their investable funds that must be put to work.

They want to know if the public has been smart this time or if it is following the usual procedure of waiting until prices rise sharply all around before getting aboard.

They want to know if the institutions will turn to lesser lights in the market when yields on the blue chips shrink some more.

They also wonder if the rise in the rails has been a real one or a mere technical rebound after a period of stagnation or price dip.

Nearly everyone in Wall Street says that a prolonged rail rise would be a beneficial tonic for the market. Not all are in agreement that the public is getting into a frenzy to buy stocks.

The "old hands" say that before the speculatives get into action on the market, a speculative public following must be built up. They hold this usually happens at a later stage of the advance, usually the last part of it.

City Bank Total Down $1.7 Million in April

April total of Greater Victoria bank clearings was $1,704,189 less than in the corresponding month of 1953.

Victoria Clearing House total for last month was $33,905,381, compared with $35,609,570 a year ago.

STOCK EXCHANGE SUMMARIES

Industrials Stay Strong

TORONTO (CP)—Industrials remained strong in light trading toward the close of today's stock market trading, but other groups were weak.

All industrial groups were firm except foods, off slightly. Western oils dropped, losses outnumbering gains three to one. Senior base metals were strong, but weak juniors drove the group down. Uraniums strengthened. Golds were off, particularly in seniors.

Biggest paper increase was Consolidated, up 37½ cents. General Motors gained $1 to a yearly high of $69.50.

Western oil trading saw Home Oil lose 20 cents, and Canso 25.

Wall Street Slips After Good Start

NEW YORK (AP)—The stock market sank into an irregular price pattern today after a higher start.

The mixed range broadened out as the session progressed and covered around two points in either direction.

Railroads were higher and they got support from oils, coppers and electronics issues. Prices were depressed most of the time in aircrafts and chemicals while steels and motors were largely mixed.

Canadian stocks were higher. Hiram Walker gained 1¼. Distillers Seagram and International Nickel both gained ¼ and Canadian Pacific fell ⅝.

Canadian issues on the American stock exchange were higher. Royalite Oil gained ¼ and Lake Shore was up ⅛.

Hamil Moves Ahead

Hamil Lead, trading 51,200 shares at 19¾, topped another dull session on the Vancouver Stock Exchange this morning. Noon quotation was 19½-19¾.

Dropping 5 cents from a high of 4.20, Coast Breweries sold a total of 1,825 shares. Noon quotation was 4.10-4.15.

Mid-West Gas slipped to 1.50 from 1.55 on a 2,800 share volume. Noon quotation was 1.50-1.53.

Montreal Ahead

MONTREAL (CP) — Stock market prices moved ahead in moderate trading today.

Utilities showed a mixed pattern. Banks, carriers and senior oils were steady and the remainder of the industrial market followed an upward trend.

London Board Quiet But Undertone Good

LONDON (CP)—London stock exchange was quiet today but the undertone continued satisfactory.

British government issues were brisk with small, irregular price movements.

Canadian Pacific was firm in sympathy with the overnight advance on Wall Street which resulted in an upward adjustment of dollar stocks.

CHICAGO

CHICAGO (AP)—A private crop expert's forecast of a smaller than expected wheat crop provided the background today for a good rally in the recently weak bread grain.

While wheat was rising 3 cents or more at one time, the rest of the market also firmed.

Boost Seen In Canadian Ad Outlays

Ads Held Vital To Trade Growth

TORONTO (BUP)—The continued expansion of Canadian industries will make advertising an increasingly important factor in Canada's economy, according to Frederic R. Gamble, president of the American Association of Advertising Agencies.

Gamble told the opening luncheon of the 39th annual convention of the Association of Canadian Advertisers Tuesday that industry would need more and more customers both at home and abroad as it expanded.

He predicted that Canada soon would reach the point where advertising formed as large a part of the gross national product as in the United States.

Advertising accounted for $8,000,000,000 of the U.S. gross national product of $300,000,000,000 last year, Gamble said.

He urged advertising men to condemn "hucksters" for unethical practices in the advertising business, and said such operators brought condemnation on the whole industry.

A message from prime minister Louis St. Laurent was read at the opening of the convention yesterday. Mr. St. Laurent said that advertising played a vital role in modern society and kept potential consumers aware of the many products available to them.

Another Banner Year Foreseen for Canada

Business Activity Will Top 1953 Record Predicts Prudential Insurance President

TORONTO (BUP)—Carrol M. Shanks, president of the Prudential Insurance Company of Canada, today scored talk of a recession and predicted that business activity in Canada and the United States would top 1953's record level.

"There is altogether too much discussion about recession," Shanks told the 39th annual conference of the Association of Canadian Advertisers. He added that consumer purchases this year would exceed the all-time high reached in 1953.

Shanks said a slight recession earlier this year appeared because people let confidence slip away, and noted that companies were showing an ever-increasing awareness that confidence is a "saleable commodity."

"The importance of confidence becomes crystal clear when you realize that possibly half of everything people buy consists of things they can do without if pressed, or can postpone for a considerable time," he said.

"This means that the difference between a boom and a recession hangs by the slender thread of the consumers' willingness to buy freely instead of to hoard."

ADS DID TRICK

Shanks said a recent governrecession in the United States had been met by increases in advertising, additional sales efforts, price reductions and virtually everything calculated to spur consumption.

"This quick action has largely been a factor in averting a period of trouble in which we seemed to be heading for a few months ago—and we were heading into it because were were letting confidence slip away," he said.

Shanks said a recent govrenment survey indicated that consumer purchases would be greater this year than in 1952—"a year almost as good as 1953."

Although Canada and the U.S. cannot expect to be continuously on the crest of an economic wave, there was no real sign that either country was going to slip into a deep trough, he said.

"The only thing that can bring that about," he said, "is consumer timidity, and that is something we can prevent."

Shanks said the only element of prosperity which might be beyond human control was continuing peace. "To have prosperity, or even plan for it, we must have peace. And in the end I think we will have peace. Russia is in no position to wage a hot war," he said.

Mill Bay Watering Place Relic of Early Motoring

By DON INGHAM
Times Island News Editor

MILL BAY—Forlorn and forgotten, a landmark on the old Island Highway route at Mill Bay stands as a memento of a bygone age of motoring.

Years ago, southbound motorists always stopped at a little stream at Mill Bay, at the foot of the long, hard climb over the Malahat, to fill their radiators.

The road and automobiles both being somewhat primitive, the radiator stop was imperative. If it was ignored, a boiling radiator was the result, and hours of lost time had to be endured.

In 1924 the Victoria Rotary Club installed at the site a cement trough and back wall bearing the Rotary emblem. From its centre poured clear, cold water designed to give overheated radiators a new lease on life.

ADDED CONVENIENCE

The motoring public blessed the club hundreds of times daily for the added convenience of being able to perform a necessary task at the proper place with a minimum of bother.

Times, however, change. Cars improved to the point where most of them could ignore the water stop. Then the route of the highway was changed to take it "out of circulation" completely.

Time and souvenir hunters took their toll. Today the little oasis is decrepit and patronized only by the odd picnicker who wants water for tea or coffee. But the water still runs and still is clean and clear.

City Woman Heads Church Conference

CHEMAINUS — The semi-annual United Church presbytery rally was held in Chemainus with 18 women's associations from United Church groups from Victoria to Port Alberni represented.

A total of 90 delegates registered for the day-long meeting.

Visitors were welcomed by Chemainus W.A president, Mrs. E. Tallman. Guest speaker was Mrs. Alex Jameson, Vancouver, president of the Conference of Women's Associations. She outlined the aims and objectives of the conference, and gave special mention to the Victoria presbytery and the progress it had made since its organization two years ago.

Mrs. F. H. Parsons, Victoria, was elected president of the group for the ensuing year. New executive was installed by Rev. J. M. Alexander, Chemainus United Church minister. Luncheon was served to the delegates in the church hall.

Dogs Killing Game Birds

NANAIMO — Dogs running wild and disturbing nesting birds in the No. 1 Indian Reserve here have been reported by Eddie Brown, well-known sportsman on the reserve.

Mr. Brown discovered one dog killing a Hungarian partridge. He drove the dog off, but too late, since the hen did not leave her nest when the dog approached. Hungarian partridges here have hatched their young in former years from May 10 to May 15.

B.C. game laws give power to game wardens to destroy dogs found running at large in upland game areas during the months of April to July inclusive.

Steel Arriving For Substation

NANAIMO — Structural steel and equipment is arriving at the B.C. Power Commission's Jingle Pot substation near here for construction of a new control building.

The job is part of a $660,000 project which includes installation of a synchronous condenser, a large piece of equipment required to handle the increased load on transmission lines.

Tenders for construction of the building closed April 29. It is expected the contract will be awarded shortly.

FAIR DAMSELS MAKING HOME AT WOODWYNN

WEST SAANICH — Four soft-eyed beauties from a famous Ontario family have taken up residence at Woodwynn Farm of Hon. W. C. Woodward.

They are Angus heifers purchased by Mrs. Woodward from the herd of E. P. Taylor, well known businessman and race horse owner.

Mrs. Woodward hopes to improve the Woodwynn herd by the addition of the new animals. One of them was futurity grand champion at the spring show in Edmonton.

Power Commission Expands at 'River'

CAMPBELL RIVER—Ianson and Polglase of Campbell River are proceeding with construction here of a combination warehouse-garage-office building for the B.C. Power Commission to cost about $12,000.

The quarters are required because of increased business in the Campbell River district. About 1,800 customers now are served, as compared with 831 when the commission started operating here about five years ago.

Young Riders At Glen Lake Form Club

LUXTON — The Glen Lake Saddle and Bridle Club has been formed by Mrs. J. Gurr, Glen Lake Road, for children of 16 years and under, with the idea of promoting safety for young riders and to teach some understanding and knowledge of the care of horses.

Officers elected for the club are Mrs. Gurr, president; Miss Morag Symington, vice-president; and J. Gurr, secretary-treasurer. Tentative plans have been made for trail rides and one overnight camp.

Children with horses, and others who are interested in riding, will be welcomed into the club.

Present members are Joan Allen, Sharon Smith, Judy Moseley, Jan Fraser, Judy Fraser, Mickey Gates, Morag Symington, Angela Gurr, Heather Thompson, Lucille Hull, Carol Denman, Sandra Freemantle, and Katherine Creasser.

Carpenters Quell Salt Spring Blaze

GANGES — Two carpenters working near the home of Andrew Ryan, North Salt Spring Island, put out a fire on the roof of the home minutes after it started Monday afternoon.

Part of the roof was destroyed.

A call had been placed to the volunteer fire department, but before the fire truck left the hall it was learned the fire was out.

Building Figures

NANAIMO — Building permits issued in Nanaimo for March totalled $137,782, compared to $143,895 for the same month a year ago.

However, figures for the first three months of the year, totaling $485,967, were $204,657 greater than those of the first three months in 1953.

MLA Promises Colwood Club Road Improvement Program

COLWOOD — Roads in this district were the chief topic of discussion at the regular meeting of Colwood Community Club, when Herbert Bruch, MLA, was guest speaker.

Members mentioned the condition of side roads, especially Kelly Road, the dust nuisance, Mount View Avenue and the condition of the shoulders of the main roads.

Mr. Bruch announced that an extra appropriation had been set for surfacing roads, but due to the backlog of work to be done, it would be hard to say just when Kelly Road would be surfaced. It was on the list of work to be accomplished in the near future, he said.

The second part of the program was given over to Eric Druce, public relations officer for the B.C. Forest Service, who spoke on the value of forests to B.C. and showed films of reforestation.

A short business session followed, when $75 was voted to the hall committee to help defray the cost of the new furnace.

Politics Disclaimed By Socred Speaker

Irwin Charges Previous Governments Slanted Politics to Suit Interests

GANGES—Social Credit "can never become a political party," Tom Irwin, speaker of the legislature, said here Monday at a public meeting.

Previous government had "slanted" their policies to their own particular interests, he said, "but a Social Credit government is based on the desires of all the people."

Speaking of the Social Services Tax Act, he said that no regular insurance policy could provide the coverage now available.

With reference to the new Labor Relations Act, he said that union threats to call a general strike could not challenge the government position.

"Labor and management must learn to work together and eventualy lie down as the lion and the lamb," he said.

Noel Murphy, president of the Social Credit League of B.C., outlined Social Credit principles and spoke at length on monetary reform.

"As soon as war came, those who had been bums became heroes," he said. "We could pay from $75,000 to $100,000 to keep a man in the front line—to kill him."

Mr. Irwin and Mr. Murphy were guests at a dinner in the Harbor House Hotel prior to the meeting. Among those present were Howard Chalk, Salt Spring Island Chamber of Commerce president; E. J. Avery, president of the Social Credit League No. 3 Group; Gavin C. Mouat, defeated Liberal candidate in the last election; and Col. D. G. Crofton, past president of the Chamber of Commerce.

Provincial government offer of a $500 settlement for damages to a truck of the Hole & Clark Transportation Co., has been accepted by the company. The original claim was for $1,500, made after one of its trucks was damaged when the Dry Creek bridge, near Port Hardy, collapsed Nov. 9, 1953.

Drama, Song On Nanaimo Program

NANAIMO—A concert of considerable interest to lovers of drama and choral singing is being staged at John Shaw High School here tonight.

Yellow Point Drama Club will present its talented juniors in a one-act play, "The Ugly Duckling," and also the award-winning comedy at the recent drama festival, "Storm in a Loving Cup."

The Choral Society, that "sings for the joy of singing," has presented several popular concerts at Port Alberni and Ladysmith, where its rendition of outstanding Welsh airs won acclaim.

Tommy Millard Wins Initial Soap Box Trial

CHEMAINUS — Tommy Millard became the first winner of the Firemen's Trophy here on the week-end when he raced his bug to victory in the first soap box run of the year.

He defeated Glenn Woodley in the final race, after the two drivers had tied in a previous run. Tommy will put his trophy on the line later this month.

Fourteen junior and senior soap boxers are working out regularly on the Oak Street hill in preparation for the big soap box derby to be held here on May 23. Soap boxers from Victoria, Nanaimo and Port Alberni have been invited to take part in the derby here.

Kiwanis Form Youth Group In Nanaimo

Austin Curtis Grants Charter

NANAIMO — The first Key Club in British Columbia was chartered here Tuesday night when Austin Curtis, Victoria, past lieutenant-governor of Kiwanis District No. 1, handed Don Malpass the scroll of his appointment as president.

Before 95 guests at Malaspina Hotel, the Kiwanis youth club, first west of the Great Lakes, came into being. Mr. Curtis, who sparked the idea of a key club in B.C., congratulated the new members pointing out that faith in club, community and country were the three cardinal features of Kiwanis thought.

Vice-president of the newly-formed club is Stan Clair, and Melvin McKenzie is secretary-treasurer. Directors are Bob Herman, Bob Baxter and John Ricker. Members are students from Nanaimo High School.

AID FROM PRINCIPAL

President E. W. Miller of Kiwanis welcomed the boys, and congratulated them on their formation. He thanked J. Litch, principal, and J. Swan, vice-principal of Nanaimo High School for their interest and encouragement.

Mr. Curtis said the encouragement given the movement by Herb Maisey and Ed Miles in Nanaimo had been responsible for formation of the club.

Herb Maisey is chairman of the youth committee and Ed Miles of the boys' and girls' committee. Flags of Canada and U.S.A., the latter from the Port Angeles club, were presented in token by Bob Dykes. Banners will be forwarded when dimensions required are known.

Magistrate Warns Youth Against Possessing Liquor

NANAIMO — Juveniles possessing beer were given fair warning Tuesday by Magistrate L. H. Beevor-Potts.

"I won't have it," he said in police court. "There is too much trouble caused by the younger generation being in possession of liquor."

He spoke at the trial of M. Bell, when he fined the 19-year-old Chemainus High School boy $20 and $4.50 costs for possession of beer in the washroom of the Canadian Legion Hall here.

"I'm letting you off very lightly," he said, giving the youth a week to pay his fine. "Don't let me see you here again."

Charged at the same time as Bell was Lawrence Bonde, also of Chemainus, who failed to appear. A sea cadet, he had been chosen because of his excellent training record as one of two B.C. cadets to sail with HMCS Quebec on a five-week cruise to European waters. Now at sea, he is scheduled to return to Halifax June 6.

A bench warrant for his arrest was issued when it was found he was away.

Volunteer Crew Plans Clean-Up At Departure Bay

NANAIMO — Departure Bay beach has been reported in poor condition with rocks washed out of the retaining wall and strewn on the beach as a hazard to children and bathers.

Volunteers have been called to help clear it up, and Sunday has been set for a work bee. Supervision will be don by Jack Little, Ken Riley and Norm Blank. Members of the WA, Departure Bay, have volunteered to supply coffee and sandwiches for the workers.

"It's a shame that such a lovely resort should be so neglected," said one resident. "It certainly does no justice fo the fine biological station building just across the way."

They Sing as One

BETWEEN TIMES

By MONTE ROBERTS

It would appear one of the constituents has become aware of the growing fad for automobiles, and of the fact that even the ladies now operate horseless carriages.

The following tear-sheet from an unidentified magazine appeared in the morning mail:

HINTS FOR THE MOTORING GIRL.

To protect your frock while motoring: Here is an idea for motor apparel which may be helpful to a woman who drives her own car and wishes to look presentable, should she stop at any place on the trip.

Take an old skirt and slit it up the back. Then take some ribbons or tape and make strings as you would for an apron. This garment can be put on over a nice dress, and, if you wish to stop, just unfasten it at the back and slip it off, leaving it on the seat in readiness to tie on again on your return.

This is especially good for summer driving when light dresses are worn, as it is very hard to keep from spotting the skirt with grease from the brakes and clutches.

The skirt again: Cyclists' trouser-clips can be used to good advantage in keeping the skirts from interfering with the free use of the pedals; they also protect the skirt from becoming soiled or dusty on the floor of the car.

An overall made of khaki cloth or other heavy material is a useful article to have on hand in case of accident to tires or other parts which the mechanically-inclined driver can repair.

The useful elastic: One motoring woman always carries in a pocket in the car several elastic bands made like round garters, only larger, for guests whose hats are troublesome, to slip over their hats and under their chins, kiddie fashion. They have made several people have a good time, when otherwise the enjoyment would have been spoiled by flopping hats.

I arise to state, my enjoyment hasn't been spoiled by a flopping hat for many a long year.

But my enjoyment of the above nostalgic item is spoiled by burning curiosity.

The constituent who sent it along neglected to supply the name or date of the paper in which it originally appeared. Would he kindly oblige, before I go slightly wacky?

"If only a half of a third of a quarter of you boys would pay some attention to what I say," cried the arithmetic teacher in exasperation, "I'd feel my efforts weren't wasted." He looked round his little class: not even three dozen of them, but surely he had a right to expect at least one with some intelligence. But his grade five pupils just sat and smirked. How many would you say he had in that class?

Tuesday's answer: Seventy-seven buttons.

Young Girl Injured in Noon Crash

A 13-year-old girl in collision with a car as she rode her bicycle through Rockland-Royal Terrace intersection just after noon today is in fair condition

Evelyn Moon, 13, daughter of Mrs. W. MacLaren, 431 Arnold, suffered undetermined injuries.

The little girl was thought to be returning from school for dinner when she reportedly crossed Rockland on Royal Terrace without heeding a stop sign.

A car which was said to be driven by Col. Bernard Russell Kerr, 1470 Rockland, collided with her as she flashed across the intersection.

Brewers Name New Officers Here Thursday

Canadian Brewers' Association delegates will elect a new slate of officers Thursday at the annual general meeting of the association here.

Representatives of 60 Canadian brewing companies are holding closed meetings today on technical problems encountered in the industry.

The brewers are studying methods of improvements in malt and barley growing and discussing the federal government's new system of collecting excise tax at the production level rather than at the malt level.

Also at Thursday's meeting trophies will be awarded to the breweries having the lowest accident rate during the past year.

Retiring chairman is Hugh F. Labatt.

Rape Appeal Lost By Vancouver Man

Appeal of Ted Franks of Vancouver, convicted of raping a 15-year-old daughter of an immigrant family from Austria, was dismissed by the B.C. Court of Appeal today.

The court, however, reduced a sentence of five years imprisonment by one year, following a plea from the accused that he was married and had four children.

"You're very lucky," Chief Justice Gordon McG. Sloan told the accused. "Rape formerly carried with it the penalty of death."

DUNCAN MAN AT D-DAY ANNIVERSARY

CQMS Robert Fitzgerald, formerly of Duncan, will officially represent the Canadian Scottish Regiment (Princess Mary's) in the 10th anniversary celebrations of the D-Day landings in Normandy early next month.

Brig. F. N. Cabeldu, CBE, DSO and Bar, announced the Scottish selection today, as president of the regiment's board of trustees.

CQMS Fitzgerald was chosen because he is now living outside Gilford, Surrey, Eng.

"We are fortunate in having a former member of the first battalion in England as the expense of sending a representative from here would have been almost prohibitive," said the wartime brigade leader.

Brig. Cabeldu, then a lieutenant-colonel, was in command of the Scottish when they hit the beaches of Normandy on June 5, 1944, in the start of the Allied thrust that pulverized the Nazi military machine.

Photo Awards For 2 City Lens Artists

Victoria photographer Helmuth Goertz has been awarded the R. J. Hughes Perpetual Trophy for the best print of the year in the Professional Photographers' Association of B.C. annual photo salon at the B.C. Products Fair.

The trophy, originally commissioned by sculptor and artist Jan Zach, was awarded Tuesday night, following a vote of members of the association of "Honorable Mention" photographs.

Another Victoria cameraman, Ken McAllister, received the "Photographer of the Year" award for "the greatest contribution to the Professional Photographers' Association during the past 12 months."

Two Ansco awards were also presented, one for the best portrait in the salon, and the other for the best commercial print. The portrait award went to Mr. Goertz, and the commercial print trophy was presented to Jack Cash, North Vancouver, son of Victoria writer Gwen Cash.

Honorable mentions for top portraits went to Don Clowes, Eric Skipsey and R. Marlow, all of Vancouver; Leonard Holmes, Ken McAllister, Jack Price, Helmuth Goertz, Victoria photographers; W. Cartmel and M. M. Burlin, of New Westminster; W. West, of Prince George, and Charles Wormington, of Kimberley.

In the commercial print class, honorable mentions were awarded Leonard Frank, Dick Gade, Jack Cash and Williams Bros., of Vancouver; Bern Atkins, Bob Golding, R. Hale and Horace Draper, of Victoria, and Charles Wormington, of Kimberley.

Flood Rescue Chief Named

Maj.-Gen. C. R. S. Stein, provincial civil defense co-ordinator, has been appointed by the government to head the province's flood precaution program.

He began a tour of the endangered fertile Okanagan Valley today as 100,000 sandbags were ordered sent to the Fraser Valley in the first step to stockpile 1,000,000 in the event of an emergency.

Observers view the situation in the low-lying south end of the province as the most serious flood threat since 1948.

Brig. G. A. McCarter, assistant B.C. co-ordinator for civil defense, reported to the provincial cabinet Tuesday that all possible preventative measures were being taken.

Minors Allowed To Serve Spirits In Dining Rooms

Minors will be allowed to serve beer, wine and liquor in establishments with dining room or dining lounge licenses, but will not be allowed to serve in public houses or places with lounge—cocktail bar—licenses, Attorney-General Robert Bonner pointed out today.

This applies to both men and women.

However, regulations prohibiting consumption of liquor on any licensed premises for persons under 21 years of age still apply, whether they are serving as waiters, waitresses or not.

Many restaurants have employees who could be classified as minors.

It was reported earlier this week that officials of the Hotel and Restaurant Workers' Union (AFL-TLC) were concerned whether under-21 waitresses would be allowed to serve.

It will be up to the employer to determine if an employee is over 21 in the case of public houses or cocktail bars, or of sufficent maturity to handle adequately the job of serving in the other instances.

Employers are held responsible for administration of the act on their premies, and are liable to stiff fines for infractions.

Knife Robbery Victim Beaten

Thugs Described After Young Chinese Held Up

A big, heavily-moustached man and his shorter companion who robbed a young Chinese at knife-point Tuesday night then beat him, fracturing a rib, are sought by city police today.

Garry Lee, 22, in "fairly good" condition at Jubilee Hospital, told police through an interpreter the two thugs who attacked him at 11.27 at Quadra and Johnson held a six-inch blade pressed against his heart.

Working calmly and methodically, the pair never spoke a word from the time they pinned his arms behind his back, took his watch and $42, beat him to the pavement and escaped.

Lee staggered to Johnny's Coffee Bar where he called his cousin, Mrs. Ruth Woo. It was she who sent police to his aid and later interpreted the story.

He had been returning to his home at Selkirk Lodge, 319 Fort, from the B.C. Products Fair. He saw two men fall in behind him at Cormorant Street as he walked south on Quadra.

LIT CIGARETTE

Lee didn't suspect the men of any trickery when he stopped under the canopy of a service station at 1400 Quadra to light a cigarette.

He thought the pair would pass. But instead they halted suddenly and the smaller of the pair pinned his arms behind his back and slid another hand roughly over his mouth.

At the same time, the other attacker, a man over six feet tall with a large moustache, pulled a long-bladed knife from his pocket and pressed its point against Lee's chest.

The struggling man froze in terror and the man with the knife simply reached out Lee's wallet from an inside coat pocket. He also removed the victim's wrist watch.

Then they systematically beat him to ensure a safe escape and ran west on Johnson Street.

DESCRIPTION

Lee was able to tell police the bigger man wore a fawn coat and hat, a yellow shirt and a green tie, and probably weighs over 200 pounds.

The second man wore a white shirt, a blue tie, a blue burberry coat and a hat.

Lee is said to have come here from China only two years ago. He works at the Mandarin Cafe.

Search Continues For Relatives of Man Drowned Here

Efforts by city police to locate relatives of a man who drowned off Dallas Road beach early Monday have so far drawn a blank, Chief John Blackstock said today.

But a wire has been sent to a previous employer in Eastern Canada who may have a personnel file, which will lead officials to parents.

Police will release the missing man's name as soon as his parents are advised.

The drowning victim was observed as he sank to his death just below the Dallas-Paddon intersection by a bird-watcher, Mrs. W. J. McKenzie, 654 Dallas Road.

His clothing was found on the beach and a laundry mark on a shirt, only clue to the man's name, was traced by city detectives.

Loan Companies Draw Pentacostal Criticism

Rev. W. E. McAlister of Toronto, general superintendent of the Pentecostal Assemblies of Canada, whose B.C. division is meeting in Victoria, struck out today at the actions of Canadian finance companies when dealing with churches.

Speaking on a resolution calling for the setting up of a system of financing church buildings through loans administered by the building society, the minister noted the difficulties churches often had in obtaining loans or mortgages from finance companies.

The object of the motion was to allow members of the congregation to invest money at interest in church building projects.

"When we do obtain a loan from a finance company," Mr. McAllister said, "they hold it over our heads. And in difficult times, they will even dictate to the church . . . even to the point of telling us who our pastors must be."

Most members of the assembly who spoke on the issue, favored setting up a system of financing within the Pentecostal Assembly.

Several delegates voiced one objection to the wording of the resolution which concerned interest. They felt that paying interest to members on money loaned wasagainst the Biblical principles against usury.

Another resolution that was passed unanimously by the delegates, requested individual assemblies to contact the District Supervisor when a parish changed its pastor.

The assembly accepted the applications of Maynard Beattie, Norman Craddock, Beryl William Carl Kennedy, and Clarence Stall for licensed minister's papers; the application of Rose Anna Grant for deaconess papers; and the application of Muriel Ellis Kauv as lady worker.

Eighth Traffic Violation Brings 10-Day Jail Term

A young city truckdriver who pleaded guilty to his eighth traffic violation in recent months, was sentenced to 10 days in jail today for driving while his license was under suspension.

Failure to pay $25 in additional fines would add another six days to the term of William Shultz, Fernwood Road.

"In regard to your continued breach of the law I intend to give you a jail sentence," Magistrate H. C. Hall said when Schultz was led into the prisoner's box.

Schultz was arrested and placed in custody Monday. He was charged with driving while under suspension, failing to state correctly his name and address and failing to have a chauffeur's license.

Prosecutor Alan Bigelow told the court that Schultz has in recent months been fined for careless driving, three times for lacking a license, giving false information in an accident report, using someone else's license and lacking a chauffeur's license. He did 15 days on traffic charges previously.

The prosecutor added that the accused had produced a license bearing the name Bill Schultz which had been issued under the name Paul Schultz and the name altered.

The second and third charges brought fines of $15 or three days and $10 or three days, respectively. The time is not concurrent.

'NAME'S SAME' INTRODUCTION TO $26 BILK

A city architect with a not-too-common name was bilked by a man who walked into his downtown office and used as an introduction the fact that he had the same family "moniker."

He told the architect he was just out of the penitentiary and needed some money for work clothes in order to begin a job at Port Alberni.

Possibly to get rid of the man, who might be mistaken for a black-sheep relative, the builder gave him $10.

But the caller returned later. He had spent the $10 for union dues and needed more. Again the shell-out—$16 this time.

Later the architect checked the man's story with a letter to the federal jail. Back came the answer that the mystery man had never been there.

But the architect thinks that is where his namesake is likely headed.

ASK The TIMES

Q.—After whom was the Davis Cup, international tennis trophy for which qualifying rounds are now being played, named?—O.S.

A.—The Encyclopaedia Brittannica in its article on lawn tennis says: "In 1900 a cup was donated by Dwight F. Davis, then an undergraduate at Harvard, for international competition. The first contest was played at Longwood, near Boston, on August 8, 9 and 10, 1900, and was won by the United States, 3 matches to 0." The chief services of Davis' career were as Secretary of War in the Coolidge administration, and later as Governor-General of the Philippines.

Q.—Does a cock crow because he wants to crow, or is it caused by a nerve in the same manner as a nerve makes us to sneeze?—E.G.

A.—A rooster crows in response to a stimulus, the Times is informed by those qualified to speak on the subject. It is not an act triggered by a nerve and performed without conscious control. Light as it comes in the morning is stated to be a stimulus. A rooster may crow when he is disturbed, as by a passing car which arouses him. There may be other stimuli not apparent to observers.

Anyone wishing a question answered is invited to send the problem along to The Times, addressed to "Ask The Times" Editor. Questions and answers will be published daily. All questions should deal with matters of fact and be of general interest. The Times does not undertake to solve conundrums.

Time to Plan Window Boxes Now

If you are planning to use hanging baskets or window boxes in this year's scheme of decorations, it is time to start working on them.

Wire hanging baskets usually require a coat of good enamel each season. After four or five years the wires become well coated and a good washing is sufficient to make them presentable.

Window boxes require more care than wire baskets. Too many are put into use without proper preparation, which results in considerable rotting of the wood within a year or so.

Coating the inside of a wooden window box with a wood preservative is worth both the time and expense. Products suitable for this work are available from paint supply stores, hardwares, and feed stores.

Soil for the boxes and baskets is the next consideration. Either container holds comparatively little soil and will dry out quickly. The only way to hold moisture around the roots of the plants is to use a soil mixture which contains plenty of humus or compost—possibly as much as 75 per cent.

The balance of the mixture should be good garden soil and sand, mixed with a 4-12-4 or 5-10-5 fertilizer.

The plants should be set in place as soon as possible, and the container (basket or box) kept in a frost-free airy place having good light and dappled sunshine until the material is in flower.

SHOPPING GUIDE

Sew Educational Prints Into Perky Spring Dresses

By PENNY SAVER

Ran across the darlingest cottons, yesterday. Bet you'll love 'em just as I did—they're called "Educational Prints," and if you're hunting for fabrics to sew up into summer frocks, they are, without a doubt, the greatest!

You say you're a French student? Then you'll get a bang out of the hearts and flowers print with such phrases as "M'aimez-vous?" "Je vous aime" or "Je t'aime," scattered here and there between ruffled hearts and colonial bouquets. Then, encircling a pair of letters are the words, "Billets-doux, lettres d'amours"—Hmmmmm!

French can-can dancers are high-kicking it all over another bolt of these prints. Their red and black ruffled skirts stand out vividly against the whiteness of the background. The words "can-can" and "folies" complete the pattern.

* * *

Also on a French theme is a postman on a bicycle, riding past such street signs as "Rue de la Paix" and "Rue De Louvre."

Finally there is a pattern of old-time cars in navy on a white ground. See how many you can name!

All these fine cotton prints are 36 inches wide and cost you just 98 cents a yard. Now if that isn't a bargain, I ask you what is? You know, they were tagged at $1.39 at one time!

* * *

Right from New York is the "ruflin" fabric, which is in truth, a variation on a cotton theme. I mean that, although cotton, you'd never know it, for it's almost like a heavy linen.

You'll like its stiffness, for it is ideal for full-skirted dresses—no crinoline needed. And it's crease resistant, which is certainly a point we must not overlook. Width is 36 inches and price is $1.69 a yard.

Vibrant background colors such as peacock blue, coffee brown, cherry red and green set off the modernistic designs to perfection.

Parents Advised to Help Their Debt-Ridden Son

By ELIZABETH B. HURLOCK, PhD

Too-heavy responsibilities can crush a person's spirit to the point where he does not care what happens to him. A mother writes:

Hurlock

(Q) "Can you tell me what is the matter with my son and how to straighten him out? He is 26 years old and married for the second time. He had one child by the first marriage and three by this marriage. He has to pay $10 a week for the support of the child by his first marriage. We put a mortgage on our home to help him to buy a home. He was to pay us back gradually.

"Until lately he was working hard, and now he just won't go to work. He works about two days a week. Bills are piling up and he doesn't seem to care. He used to be so ambitious and so proud of his home. He tells his wife when they put him in jail for not paying his bills, they can't bother him any more. Is he mentally ill? We don't know what to do to help them."

(A) The best thing you can do is to try to ease his burdens until he gets on his feet again. If your home is big enough for you to take him and his family in, why not sell his home and divide the proceeds proportionally between you and him. Then use your share to keep the family for the present.

For a young man of 26, a wife, three children, and another child to provide for is a very heavy burden. Trying to buy a house on top of all this proved beyond his ability to cope with.

He doubtless is more worried than you realize about his mounting debts. When he found himself snowed under a pile of bills and saw no way of digging out, it killed his ambition. I suppose you could call this a case of "mental illness," but more correctly, it is a state of mental fatigue or exhaustion.

If you and your husband can take the family in your home, help with the care of the children and give your son and his wife a chance to rest both physically and mentally, he will be able to pay off his debts and start anew. Don't let him make the mistake of plunging into excessive responsibilities again before he is ready. If you do, it will kill his spirit and he may never completely recover.

As a special service to our readers, Dr. Hurlock has written a 64-page booklet, "You and Your Problems." For your copy send 15c in coin with a self-addressed stamped envelope to this newspaper.

Monterey — Annual carnival sponsored by Monterey PTA will be held in Monterey School auditorium, Friday from 7 to 9. There will be bingo, and a home cooking stall.

WEDDING ETIQUETTE

If your wedding is informal a cordial hand-written note of invitation should be sent by your mother or whoever is sponsoring the wedding. It could be as simple as this: Dear Betty: Gwen and Bob are being married at three o'clock on Saturday, the twenty-fifth of September, here at home. We are hoping that you and George can be with us and stay for tea afterwards. Affectionately, Mary. There are no rules governing the type of stationery except that it should be of good quality. Double-fold white or cream paper of the type used for accepting formal invitations is in excellent taste. Informal invitations should be enclosed in a single envelope and may be mailed as late as two weeks before the ceremony. If she wishes, the mother of the bride may telegraph or telephone her invitations but a hand-written note is preferable.

Group Development Important in Modern Age, Play Groups Told

More and more time is being spent in groups, Miss Marjorie Smith, supervisor of family life and group development service with University of British Columbia Extension Department, told Vancouver Island Co-operative Play Group Association here.

Each person comes to the group with human needs. They wish to be a part of the group and want to contribute to it. If the time is to be spent effectively there must be basic methods for group development.

"In a good group there is a feeling of friendliness," the speaker said. "This is obtained by the chairman's attitude by old members welcoming new ones, by refreshments and by seating arrangements . . . in a circle rather than stiff rows."

Miss Smith demonstrated by a most effective buzz session how it is possible to get every member of a group to participate and how to get a wealth of ideas in a short time by splitting up into small discussion groups. She also showed a film, "Understanding Children's Play."

The speaker was introduced by Mrs. E. Webster.

Mrs. W. W. McGill reported on formation of a new Fair Oaks play group and on the work of the study group committee. This committee has arranged a course, "The Importance of Understanding Children's Behavior," under direction of J. D. Patterson, National Film Board, on four Thursday evenings at Victoria College, starting May 27.

Mrs. Doreen Warden was election president of the group. She was also named with Mrs. Grace Shaw to meet with representatives from other pre-school age education groups to form an exploratory committee to set up a course so that supervisors can obtain their training here in Victoria and received credits satisfactory to the Welfare Licensing Board.

Refreshments were served by Christ Church Cathedral group.

A Special Cake for Mother's Day

Old-fashioned spice cake, fragrant as those remembered baking days, is a wonderful dessert for Mother's Day.

An old-fashioned spice cake, capturing many of the exciting flavors and aromas that made your mother's kitchen one of the most fascinating haunts of childhood, is a perfect dessert for Mother's Day dinner.

Cinnamon and nutmeg from the East Indies, cloves from Madagascar and ginger from Jamaica, plus a luxurious frosting, make this a lovely tribute to Mother.

OLD-FASHIONED SPICE CAKE

Two cups (sifted) all-purpose flour, 2 teaspoons double-acting baking powder, ½ teaspoon salt, ½ teaspoon ground nutmeg, ¼ teaspoon ground cinnamon, ¼ teaspoon ground ginger, ½ teaspoon ground clove, ⅔ cup shortening, 1 cup sugar, ⅓ cup light molasses, 2 eggs, unbeaten, ¾ cup milk.

Heat oven to 375 degrees F. (moderate). Sift together first seven ingredients. Cream shortening and sugar together until fluffy. Blend in molasses. Stir in ¼ cup of the flour mixture.

Beat in eggs, one at a time. Add the remaining flour alternately with milk, beginning and ending with flour. Beat batter ½ minute. Bake in two well-greased, lightly floured, eight-inch layer cake pans for 25 minutes or until done. Cool 10 minutes before removing from pan. When cooled frost with seven-minute frosting.

SEVEN-MINUTE FROSTING

Two egg whites, unbeaten; 1½ cups sugar, dash of salt, ¼ cup water, 1 tablespoon light corn syrup, ½ teaspoon pure lemon extract.

Beat together the first five ingredients in the top part of double boiler. Place over boiling water. Continue beating with an electric or rotary beater about seven minutes, or until frosting stands in stiff peaks.

Remove from boiling water, add flavoring and continue beating until stiff enough to spread.

Recipe makes enough frosting to spread over tops and sides of two eight-inch layer cakes.

WHY GROW OLD?

By JOSEPHINE LOWMAN

Remember the story of the little boy who was given an orange by a kind lady on the train. "What do you say, Billie?" prompted his embarrassed mother. "Peel it," said Billie, handing the orange back.

Whew. That is the trouble with a lot of people, including us, once in a while. We fall heir to lovely life and its myriad opportunities for success and rich daily living. What do we do? We expect life to dish up its fruit with loving care, and even peel it for us.

Well, get hep. It won't. Every day we go about expecting more of others than we give, waiting for people to make the first move toward friendliness, or ignoring the opportunities life offers us. "Why should I take that job? It would bore me to death. I deserve better."

We are so often stupid in recognizing chances in business and in human relationships. The tough orange skin deters us. We will take life peeled or not at all. For a while life may do this for you. Sunny days. Good luck. No problems.

But, sooner or later oranges and life will begin to catch up with you. Self-investment is a recessity for happy living and it is nature's law that an individual must carry his weight, must do his part in human relationships and business relationships in order for him to exist successfully. Otherwise the man or woman will find that the oranges life offers later on are smaller and have much less juice than the earlier ones. The skins will also be tougher.

If I were asked to choose one characteristic which will lead to the greatest happiness and success, I would say, "Gratitude—not taking our blessings for granted." Of course we must have perception in order to recognize our blessings.

One person who has ready-peeled oranges dished up for him by life may be dissatisfied while another with no orange at all in sight may feel most grateful because he is aware.

He is aware of his good fortune in just being alive, in having good health, in having someone to love and someone to love him, because of his opportunity to contribute to the happiness of others, not in a dramatic way, but consistently, in daily living.

He will never take the moon or the roses by his back door for granted, or the laughter of a child or the interval between sunset and dark. He will take the business opportunity which life offers him as a chance to climb rather than to gripe.

This may sound noble, but believe me, if you wave at life it will wave back, but you have to mean it. If you want your oranges peeled you had better look for another orb on which to live.

If you would like to have my leaflet, "Individual Happiness," send a stamped, self-addressed envelope with your request for leaflet No. 65 to Josephine Lowman in care of this newspaper.

RCMP May Send Observer To Radar-Traffic Test Run

There is a possibility a member from RCMP headquarters here may attend the forthcoming radar-traffic demonstrations to be held in Winnipeg, it was learned today.

The tests, made for the first time in Canada, will demonstrate use of radar in tracking down speeding motorists. It has been in use in the U.S. for some two years, where it has proven valuable not only in detecting speeders, but in locating criminals in get-away cars.

An RCMP spokesman here expressed keen interest in the demonstration.

While a group of western government officials are expected to attend, there was no indication the B.C. government intended to send an observer.

George Lindsay, superintendent of the motor vehicles branch, said he had observed similar radar tests last year in Sacremento, California.

HUNTRESS URSULA CARTLAND

Beautiful Blonde Wants Job Chasing Wolves in Canada

BY MURIEL NARRAWAY
Canadian Press Staff Writer

LONDON (CP)—Ursula Cartland, an authority on borzoi dogs, thinks Canada should establish a new national sport—wolf hunting with hounds.

Miss Cartland, a tall blonde from Stettin, Germany, now is in London renting her borzoi dogs to film companies. She says that of all the countries in the western world, Canada has the greatest need for a revival of the old Russian sport of "coursing" wolves — catching the quarry with a small number of fast dogs hunting by sight.

"It could become a national sport," she said. "If Canada wants to get rid of its wolves—the four - legged variety, of course—this is the way to do it."

Miss Cartland figures that coursing would be a lucrative sport in Candaa, with each skin bringing $50 in government bounties. Her dream is to set up a kennel of at least 60 trained borzois for wolf-hunting around Hudson Bay.

Stroking the silky heads of two tall, pedigreed borzois she keeps for breeding and for work in films and advertising, Miss Cartland said in an interview: "Borzois are docile, obedient pets—but they have one of the oldest and fastest hunting records."

DOING WELL NOW

It will be some time before Miss Cartland can achieve her Canadian ambition. It takes too much capital to get started. "The dogs would have to be kept for a year and trained on wolves," she said.

She now earns £10 a day renting her borzois, 3½-year-old Teufel and Yerres, 8, for work in Rex Harrison's latest movie, "The Constant Husband." As part of the fee, it's her job to see the dogs do exactly what is required.

Tribute Paid Pentecostal City Pastor

The 160 delegates to the 1954 convention of the B.C. district of the Pentecostal Assemblies of Canada heard reports from B.C. field directors at Tuesday's afternoon meeting.

Rev. J. W. Ruthven, pastor of North Douglas Tabernacle and field director for Vancouver Island, reviewed the activities of the Pentecostal Assemblies on the Island.

He noted the general increase in the size of congregations on Vancouver Island, and especially in the number of children attending Sunday school.

Rev. Ruthven touched on the individual activities of assemblies at Campbell River, Port Alberni, Nanaimo, Ladysmith, Chemainus, Duncan, Lake Cowichan and Victoria.

BRIGHT FUTURE

"I see a bright future for all the Island groups," he said, "and I feel sure that things can only get better in these Up-Island points."

The minister paid tribute to the work of Rev. C. B. Smith, pastor of Glad Tidings Tabernacle, host church for the conference.

"Rev. Smith is doing a wonderful job at Glad Tidings, and has just recently been asked by a local radio station if he would hold twice-monthly radio services from the tabernacle," he said.

Delegates to the three-day conclave which opened Tuesday morning, also heard reports from field directors representing the lower mainland, the interior and the northland district.

Rev. A. Bell, director of the vast northland district, stretching from Prince Rupert to the Alberta boundary and northward and centred around Prince George, spoke at length about the work of Pentecostal ministers amongst the Indians.

"The native population is well served in the isolated areas of northern B.C.," he said, "and surprisingly enough, the percentage of natives who have joined Pentecostal churches in the north is far higher than the percentage of whites.

"We, up at the far end of the province," Rev. Bell explained, "call them natives, not Indians. Perhaps that is how to tell the difference between a northern and southern British Columbian."

Getson on Trial For Retaining $3,015 Log Boom

Some 30 logging officials and witnesses were in County Court Tuesday for the trial of Arthur Harold Getson, operator of the Falcon Logging Co. Ltd., facing trial on four counts of retaining logs belonging to two logging firms.

The thin, immaculately dressed logging operator is accused of retaining logs belonging to Kapoor Sawmills Ltd. and Phillip Whittaker of Duncan. Value of logs is estimated at about $3,015.

The trial is being conducted before Judge J. B. Clearihue. Joseph McKenna, KC, is Crown counsel. George Gregory is representing the accused.

S. W. Taylor, provincial registrar of companies, testified that the Falcon Logging Company was registered in 1951. The accused and Dorothy Richardson Getson were listed as directors, he said.

RCMP Sergt. Reg Whittaker testified that he investigated a boom of logs in Victoria harbor on May 23, 1953, and discovered that the logs were marked with fresh green paint. He added that he noticed that other markings on the logs had been defaced and an attempt had been made to chisel out the numbers.

The case is continuing.

Hope for Record Attendance At Red Chevron Show Friday

Concert artists and colorful speaker Rev. William Hills will provide the variety on the banquet-reunion menu for members of the famous Red Chevron soldiers when they gather here Friday night.

Hope of officials is that a record post-war turnout of the surviving old soldiers of the Canadian First Contingent overseas in the 1914-18 war will sit down to feast and swap yarns at Lougheed's Banquet Hall at 7 p.m.

Tickets for the year's only get-together in these parts for Canadians who tasted first action on the battlefields of France are available at local ex-servicemen's clubs.

"We want this to be the biggest gathering of the old soldiers in the last 10 years and we've made things easy so they can get tickets," said Col. H. C. Greer, who will be chairman of the evening. Each member is invited to bring a friend.

Rev. Hills, naval padre in the Second World War, has chosen as his topic "The 'Good' Old War."

The reunion also commemorates the unforgettable first gas attack by the enemy on April 22, 1915. Gas took many lives and left others suffering for the rest of their lives.

Capt. George E. H. Harrison, PPCLI stalwart, will be in charge of the variety entertainment.

British Press Asks Facts on Indo-China

Times Sees 'Serious' Rift in Relations Between Allies if Air Not Cleared

LONDON (UP)—The British press demanded Tuesday that the government "give us the facts" of a reported policy dispute between the United States and Britain over intervention in the Indo-China war.

The influential Times of London carried a lead story and editorial calling for an official statement. The Times explored events since the dramatic emergency decisions by the British cabinet ruled out immediate intervention in Indo-China and noted that some of the facts are unclear.

The official Labor party newspaper, Daily Herald, said in a banner-line story that President Eisenhower is in trouble at home. It reported from Washington, Paris, and Geneva on a "deepening crisis" for American diplomacy.

Authoritive sources said the debate has resounded within the Foreign Office itself, with some pressure for "leaking" the British version of the dramatic April 24-25 week-end. The decision was "no" for the present.

STOPPED SHORT

Commenting on the outcry in Washington, the Times said:

"The United States, it is being freely said, would have been ready to intervene in Indo-China but was stopped short because Britain declined to join even in a limited air action to help the defenders of Dien Bien Phu . . . These suggestions are not countenanced in official quarters, but they are being taken up by congressmen and others, and there is in them the situation in Indo-China the germ of a serious rift if worsened . . . The British government themselves would be well advised to give a calm statement, as soon as it is found opportune."

BRITISH REALISM

The Daily Herald was more blunt:

"Congreemen are blaming Britain and muttering appeasement because, they cannot face the fact that America's policy of bluff, unbacked by willingness to send troops to Indo-China, broke down on the rock of British realism," the paper said.

NEWS BRIEFS

A careless driving charge resulted in a $35 fine for Frederick R. Clark, 1765 Haultain, in city police court Tuesday. Police said he had been involved in a two-car crash April 27 at Johnson and Vancouver when a passenger in each car received minor hurts and $400 damage was done.

* * *

Police were called at midnight Monday and warned that a suspicious-looking man had been seen in the Royal Theatre. Mindful of the unsolved safe-blowing there nine days ago, a prowler car attended. The policemen arrived just in time to intercept their quarry—a painter who was locking up to go home.

* * *

A picket line by local carpenters at the Lansdowne Junior High School Tuesday only lasted for 20 minutes. The work stoppage was called until carpenters had been assured employees of a Vancouver subcontractor on trusses for the auditorium roof were union members.

CD Unconcerned With Firemen if Not Enrolled

"Until firemen, volunteer or professional, enroll in civil defense my department has nothing to do with them," Leonard G. Hatcher, local target area CD director, reported today.

He was commenting on a report that Fire Chiefs Joseph Law of Saanich and Rod Bayles of the Langford volunteers have declared they will not allow their men to take part in civil defense activities until they have been assured the men will be covered by the Workmen's Compensation Act.

According to present civil defense regulations, no one is covered by compensation for injuries unless they are signed on the CD rolls.

Chief Bayles said that he would dismiss 10 auxiliary firefighting units in his area unless promised equipment was supplied by civil defense. Mr. Hatcher said he believed all auxiliary units eventually will get equipment.

Fatal Auto Crash Fails to Stop Show

STRATFORD - ON - AVON, Eng. (UP)—Actor Laurence Harvey, 25, gave a "faultless performance" as Romeo at the Shakespeare memorial theatre Monday night although visibily shaken by knocking down a policeman with his automobile.

Harvey, one of Britain's brightest stage stars, insisted on going on. It wasn't until after the show that theatre officials informed him the policeman had died.

Nurses' Choir Delights Festival, Mimi Bavin Best in G&S Arias

By AUDREY ST. D. JOHNSON

Royal Jubilee Hospital Student Nurses' Glee Club found great favor with adjudicator Filmer Hubble at Tuesday night's session of the Greater Victoria Musical Festival.

"I wish I could ask them to go on singing all evening," he commented, recalling that they had impressed him in last year's festival.

Conducted by Mary Wood, they performed in an uncontested class for female voice choirs, singing "Music When Soft Voices Die" and "Follow Me Down to Carlow," and were awarded a mark of 86 for the first number and 84 for the second.

The presentation of Gilbert and Sullivan arias in a new class created much interest. The winner was Mimi Bavin with 87 marks. Margaret Dixon was second with 86 and Robert Norman Clarke third with 85.

A demonstration performance of quick study and sight reading for piano at the intermediate level was introduced with some explanatory remarks by piano adjudicator Lyell Gustin. The performers were Lawrence Reid, Gordon Britton, Carole Jones and Joseph Mandy.

DORIS HOPKINS WINS

New champion in the adult speech arts section is Doris Hopkins. Mrs. Jean Campbell judged her scene from "Henry VIII" best in a class in which adult winners of all festivals since 1951 competed. Kathryn Roberts, last year's champion, was a close second. Others competing were Rachel Bogart, Grace Morgan and Bob Fleming.

In the Grade B church choirs class, Emmanuel Baptist Church was declared winner with 170. St. Aidan's United received 160.

JOYCE HUNT IS BEST

Highlight of the afternoon session was the operatic solo class for female voices. This drew a large entry of 16 contestants and revealed much fine vocal talent. Winner of this important event was Joyce M. Hunt, who sang "Depuis le Jour," from Charpentier's "Louise." She received 88 marks from adjudicator Filmer Hubble.

Kitty Dixon, singing the delightful aria from Mozart's "Marriage of Figaro," "Dove Sono," came second with 86. Tied for third place were Jessie Lake and Merna A. Jenkin with 85.

IF WRONG PARTY GETS POWER

Abbott Knows of No Check On 'Irresponsible' Policy

OTTAWA (CP) — Finance Minister Abbott Tuesday rejected an opposition proposal that parliament be given control over the country's money supply.

He said he considers it neither desirable nor feasible to spell out legislation fixing the amount of money which should be distributed.

Currently, control over currency production and distribution is vested in the government and its agency, the Bank of Canada.

J. M. Macdonnell, Progressive Conservative financial critic, warned the Commons banking committee that there might come a time when a "really irresponsible" government would be armed with power to push the monetary supply "to the sky."

Mr. Abbott, replying to a wide range of financial questions, said he does not know of any legislation which would prevent an irresponsible government from doing what it wanted to do. If such an administration gained power, the governor of the Bank of Canada could give the country a warning signal of some dangerous monetary changes by resigning.

But the real remedy was with the electorate, he said, in making certain that such an irresponsible government did not win at the polls.

Library Board Asked to Slash Budget $4,000

City Council sent back to the library board Tuesday the board's budget of $185,926 with instructions to pare $4,000 off.

Council, which during four days of budget-cutting has made reductions in practically every department and did not think the library estimates should escape the axe. It agreed to let the board decide just where reductions should be made.

Library board chairman James Neely, who attended the council meeting, said he considered the requested revision a reasonable one.

Acting chief librarian John Lort explained wage increases awarded professional members of the staff this year amounted to $4,946 but were deemed necessary to encourage librarians to work here. He said the Victoria scale was still lower than most places.

Ald. Robert Macmillan suggested the library board's actions in the earlier part of the year had effected the staff "so now costs have gone up because they have to entice people to work here."

Mr. Lort indicated that even with the higher scale, it would be difficult to get professional librarians with experience. He suggested the present 72-hour-a-week operation of the library might have to be reduced if the library could not get sufficient staff.

The mayor said he felt it would not matter too much if the library had to close a few hours a week.

This aroused Ald. Macmillan who termed the library an essential service "which gives knowledge to people." He said he was unalterably opposed to any reduction in hours.

Mr. Neely said he thought arrangements could be worked out so there would not be any reduction in hours.

what does pre-chilling do to pie crust?
It's not everyone who can make really fine pastry. Some of us have the gift, and a lot more don't, but even so, a cook is judged by the crust she makes.
One important rule is to have everything perfectly blended. The shortening especially should be well chilled so that it will remain in separate pellets when cut into the dry ingredients. That makes your pie crust flaky. Shirriff's use plenty of pre-chilled shortening. It's not mixed in, but cut in, so that every tiny piece is well coated in dry ingredients. Shirriff's Pre-Chilled Process makes pie crust that's as short and crisp as the best of them.
Whether you've had years of experience, or none at all, you'll feel very proud of the flaky, golden-brown pastry you turn out with this easy-to-use mix. Try it soon, won't you?

BRIDGE LESSON

By Oswald Jacoby

At some time during your bridge education you learn to locate the missing cards. This is a big forward step, to be sure, but it is important to watch not only what the opponents actually do but also what they fail to do. This point is illustrated in a hand played by Mrs. Dorothy McCorquodale of Wilmington in the recent Eastern Regional Tournament.

	NORTH (D) 5 ♠ K 10 9 ♥ Q 10 9 6 ♦ Q 5 4 ♣ A J 10
WEST ♠ Q 8 6 2 ♥ 7 2 ♦ J 9 8 ♣ K 5 3 2		EAST ♠ A J 7 4 3 ♥ 5 3 ♦ K 7 6 ♣ Q 8 7
	SOUTH ♠ 5 ♥ A K J 8 4 ♦ A 10 3 2 ♣ 9 6 4

North-South vul.

North	East	South	West
Pass	Pass	1 ♥	Pass
3 ♥	Pass	4 ♥	Pass
Pass	Pass

Opening lead—♠ 2

West opened the deuce of spades, and Mrs. McCorquodale finessed dummy's nine on the theory that West was very unlikely to be leading from the ace of spades. East won with the jack of spades and went into a huddle with himself, obviously looking for a safe return.

When East eventually returned a trump, Mrs. McCorquodale drew two rounds of trumps and then finessed the 10 of clubs to East's queen. The idea was not only to develop the clubs, but also to find out what East would do this time to find a safe return. East thought for a while after taking his queen of clubs and then returned a club up to dummy's ace-jack.

This return interested Mrs. McCorquodale very much. Of even greater interest was the fact that East had not led diamonds at either of his two chances to lead. If a diamond return looked so unsafe to East, East surely had the king of diamonds.

Acting on this assumption, declarer won the club return with dummy's jack, ruffed a spade, got back to dummy with the ace of clubs and ruffed dummy's last spade. She then led a low diamond from her hand and allowed West to hold the trick with the eight.

West had to lead another diamond, since a club or spade return would allow declarer to discard a diamond from dummy and ruff in her own hand. West returned the nine of diamonds, hoping that declarer would guess wrong. Since Mrs. McCorquodale had already decided on the location of the king of diamonds, she played a low diamond from dummy and East's king was trapped.

IN TUNE WITH THE TIMES

By BILL PARKER

Canadians will have an opportunity to hear the first performance of new opera, "Tale of Two Cities" on CBC Wednesday Night at 7.30.

The first North American presentation of Arthur Benjamin's interpretation of the Dickens' classic will be made by the CBC Opera Company.

Cedric Cliffe, who wrote the libretto for Benjamin's second opera, "Prima Donna," has also collaborated with the composer in producing "Two Cities."

CBC opera's production will be conducted by Ettore Mazzoleni and produced by Terence Gibbs.

Leading roles will be played by dramatic soprano Trudy Carlyle, lyric soprano Mary Morrison, tenor Ernest Adams, tenor Jon Vickers, and baritone James Milligan.

The broadcasting of "Tale of Two Cities" by the CBC Opera Company, probably the most ambitious undertaking of the year, marks the end of the 1953-54 season of the group.

ASTROLOGICAL FORECAST

THURSDAY, MAY 6, 1954

ARIES (March 21 to April 19)—Seeking ways to impress others with your devotion, affection, business acumen, financial sense of responsibility requires that you give forth some actual figures to prove your steadfastness. Then it continues.

TAURUS (April 20 to May 20)—Sitting down with money wizards, telling them what you want, finding out how they feel partners can best fit in your life; then conferring equally directly with all others brings out best in every person—then success.

GEMINI (May 21 to June 21) — Making sure you pay stricter attention to obligations of routine nature lops off expenses caused by extravagances, since time is then well spent in right directions; make better budget while doing job.

CANCER (June 22 to July 21)—You have happier sense of wellbeing, greater realization others are devoted to you, and you can accomplish whatever is powerfully in your consciousness. Be happy while sensibly planning future.

SCORPIO (October 23 to November 21) — Your long-desired struggled-toward aims are close to you, but it's necessary you give them push across line with some modern methods that iron out all wrinkles.

SAGITTARIUS (November 22 to December 21)—Keeping your own counsel about scheme in your mind for increasing your assets avoids having others tempted to utilize in their own favor. Avoid placing temptation in their path.

CAPRICORN (December 22 to January 20) — Sensitive associate requires comforting, extra consideration if you are to have fullest co-operation in ambition toward which you have been channeling your efforts for long time. Be truly considerate.

AQUARIUS (January 21 to February 19) — Take no chances with any higher-ups, for they are scrutinizing the manner in which you are completing chores; finish any unfinished civic obligations, responsibilities now.

PISCES (February 20 to March 20) — Getting out in the world of people, having fun, meeting serious-minded or older persons of experience gives you the inspired ideas at last for attaining more sucess quickly that will last long time.

IF YOUR CHILD IS BORN THURSDAY . . .

Thursday's child is one of those very tactful but determined youngsters who will not be easily swerved from a chosen course of action, nor from an ambitious desire really to amount to something of importance in the world of finance or public vocation. It is essential that those who have this child's care make sure that every opportunity is early given to have the best of educational training in all such avenues, plus the theory of right living from proven principles. Then you have a most successful, delightful youngster.

SECURITY INVESTMENT
We have been fortunate in securing the listing of a well-known hotel property in one of the larger centres on Vancouver Island. The hotel has a steady year-round clientele of commercial travelers, government men etc., no tourists. The assured return of this hotel is far beyond what one would expect possible with safety. This hotel does not have a beer parlor or restaurant. Briefly here is what this hotel will do for you. Give you approximately $10,000 cash annually plus paying off $5,400 annually on mortgage of which approximately $4,500 is principal plus your living which includes very nice three-room suite. Sea light laundry, phone, insurance, in fact everything except food and clothes. $5,400 pays off mortgage in approximately six years. Room rates $4 to $5 per day single; $7, $8 per day double. All work handled by 1½ chambermaids. Very little work for owners in fact this hotel could be run with a manager if owner didn't desire to reside there. This is a genuine proposition—open to full inspection.

DUTCH CHILDREN HONOR CANADIAN WAR HEROES

BERGEN OP ZOOM, The Netherlands (AP)—At each grave of the Canadian military cemetery here, 1,200 school children today placed two bouquets of daffodils.

Wreaths were placed at the cross of remembrance by Queen Juliana's aide, Vice-Admiral Rost van Tonnigen; the Canadian charge d'affaires, Paul Tremblay; and Australia's ambassador Alfred Stirling on behalf of the diplomatic corps.

Commemorating the Canadian soldiers who were killed in the Second World War, Rev. A. C. Austen, a Canadian chaplain, also said prayers for the success of the Geneva conference.

AROUND THE EARTH, TOO

Mighty Fast Mouse Would Hit 17,000 MPH

NEW YORK (UP)—Dr. Fred S. Singer, physics professor at the University of Maryland, has proposed a modest beginning to space travel—a tiny artificial moon weighing only 100 pounds and revolving around the earth at a distance of only 190 miles. He figured the cost at around $1,000,000.

This "moon" would be put into its orbit by three-stage rockets. It would carry only instruments to measure cosmic rays and the chemical compositions of space, and a small radio transmitter to send the readings back to earth.

He'd establish its orbit around the poles instead of around the equator and figured it would circle the earth once in every hour and a half and crash from gravitational pull within a few days. But in that time it would transmit information invaluable for the development of space travel.

This, he said, was a feasible project not only for "this century but for right now." He named it MOUSE — Minimum Orbital Unmanned Satellite of the Earth.

CCFer Thatcher Would Reduce Defense Costs

OTTAWA (BUP) — Some $200,000,000 could be chopped off defense spending this year without hurting national security, Ross Thatcher (CCF, Moose Jaw-Lake Centre) said Monday in the Commons.

Thatcher, who sometimes is at odds with his own party for his stands on finance, is regarded by other members of Parliament as "capitalist" in outlook rather than Socialist. He operates several hardware stores on the Prairies and also owns a farm.

Arguing that taxation at all levels of government was costing Canadians a third of their net income, Thatcher said high taxes were causing unemployment at home and a loss in export trade.

Thatcher did not suggest how defense spending could be sliced.

GALLUP POLL OF CANADA

No Bad Depression Ahead Say Two-Thirds of People

By Canadian Institute of Public Opinion

There won't ever be another depression in this country as bad as the one in 1930.

That is the belief today of about two-thirds of the Canadian public, says the Gallup Poll. Only a very small proportion of the people are fearful of a repetition. This buoyant attitude of the average Canadian has been reflected in a series of studies conducted by the Canadian Institute of Public Opinion.

Reason for this cheery mood, lies, in the main, in a conviction that social measures and government policy would prevent it. "We learned from the last one," say many.

First question put to the public by Gallup Poll interviewers was this:

"Do you think Canada will ever go through another depression as bad as the one in 1930?"

Yes, will	15%
No, will not	67
Qualified	6
No opinion	12
	100%

There is not much variation across the country, the Prairies being a little more optimistic than other regions, and British Columbia rather more pessimistic.

Men who are in management brackets are more optimistic than those who are in skilled and unskilled labor, or who live on the nation's farms. Low point is among the labor groups where 66 per cent think there won't be aonther depression like that of 1930. High point is among management and professional groups in which 72 per cent are of this opinion.

SOME FEAR WAR

Running through the replies of those who gave qualified answers was the fear of war. With many people the possibility of another war cancelled out hope for a sound economy.

The small group who were apprehensive about another bad based their hopes on these beliefs.

Everyone who had an opinion was asked to tell why that opinion we held. Those who cheerfully said "not again" depression were asked how soon they felt it would occur. About a quarter named two years or less; considerably more said "within five years."

The people who felt there would be another depression thought so largely because of fears of unemployment and of the general business situation.

Beleaguered Fortress Braces for 'Last Stand'

Fall of Dien Bien Phu Feared by Washington

HANOI, Indo-China (UP)—The Communists poured reinforcements into the blood-soaked valley of Dien Bien Phu today and claimed they were within 400 yards of the fortress' command post.

French officers admitted the Communists were closer to Dien Bien Phu's nerve centre than at any time during the 55-day-old siege.

(Peiping radio claimed today that 10,000 Viet Namese troops fighting alongside the French in Indo-China had surrendered to Ho Chi Minh's forces.)

French spirits received a boost with reports a second American airlift of French reinforcements was en route to Indo-China. The reports originated in Wiesbaden, Germany, Tuesday, and an official in Colombo, Ceylon, said the planes were expected. He did not say when.

Communist shells hammered the fortress throughout the night but they did not renew the human sea assaults that has turned the valley into a graveyard for thousands of rebel dead.

The rebels regrouped under cover of night at the stronghold they seized Tuesday and held against a determined attack by the French Foreign Legion. And as they did so Brig. Gen. Christian de Castries deployed his dwindling forces for the expected "final" attack.

A French spokesman said the Viet Minh rebels suffered "extremely heavy" losses in overrunning the western French strongpoint Tuesday morning.

The enemy threw two regiments, or approximately 4,000 men, into the attack, the French spokesman said. The defending forces were composed of a single company of French and Viet Namese soldiers.

FRENCH WALLOW IN 'MUDBATH'

HANOI (AP)—A French high command spokesman said Brig.-Gen. Christian de Castries' forces now are encamped in a giant mudbath as a result of the rains.

De Castries asked his wife by radio Tuesday night to send him a pair of rubber boots by parachute.

The stronghold looks down on Dien Bien Phu's parachute drop zone and on French headquarters. It is just southwest of the airstrip De Castries must hold if he is to receive more supplies by air.

Bad weather during the night kept French planes out of the skies—it has been raining steadily since Sunday—and military sources said with the onset of the monsoon rebel Gen. Vo Nguyen Giap must make his all-out effort some time this week.

Unless he does, French sources said, he cannot supply his 40,000-man army surrounding Dien Bien Phu.

But time also was running out for De Castries, whose air shield has been missing since the rebels began the May Day assault. A major paratroop drop announced by the high command still has not been made.

U.S. Tries to Determine Effects

WASHINGTON (UP)—The capital is bracing itself for the probable fall of Dien Bien Phu and is trying feverishly to determine what the effects may be, not only in Indo-China but throughout Asia and Europe.

What has turned into the biggest battle of the eight-year war was to be an important part of French Gen. Henri-Eugene Navarre's plan for defeating the Reds. American officials supported the plan with military equipment and confidently predicted eventual military victory over the Communists in Indo-China.

Against the background, it will be hard to put a good face on the loss of Dien Bien Phu, if the beleaguered "fortress" finally succumbs.

American authorities argue that, on military grounds alone, the stronghold itself is not too important. The French certainly would remain strong in Indo-China without the garrison, which authorities say involves no more than 5 per cent of the high command's total strength.

But military factors cannot be viewed apart from the psychological and political aspects. Adm. Arthur W. Radford, chairman of the joint chiefs of staff, has said on that score that the loss of Dien Bien Phu "would affect millions of Asiatics who are wavering on the fence . . . These effects are almost beyond calculation." There is similar American apprehension about the morale effects in France and the shot-in-the-arm a victory would give the Reds at Geneva.

Southeast Asia Pact Under Way Says Eisenhower

Could Have Bearing On Geneva Parley

WASHINGTON (CP) — President Eisenhower said today the proposed southeast Asia security pact now is "in process of formation."

In a statement read to his weekly press conference, the president announced that the countries of the Indo-China area now are "thinking in constructive terms, which include the indispensible concept of collective security."

"Progress in this matter has been considerable and I am convinced that further progress will continue to be made."

The president said the fact that a southeast Asia security arrangement "is in process of formation could have an important bearing upon what happens at Geneva during the Indo-China phase of the conference."

Eisenhower declared his unqualified support for State Secretary Dulles and for Dulles' efforts to form a united front against communism in southeast Asia.

DULLES RETURNS

The press conference followed a meeting between Eisenhower and Dulles following which the secretary said he does not know of any basis for the idea that he suffered a diplomatic defeat at the Geneva conference.

The secretary returned Tuesday night from the Geneva sessions and made a report to Eisenhower today on his efforts there to find peace for Asia and a way to save Indo-China from Communist conquest.

A reporter told Dulles the idea had been advanced that he suffered a "major diplomatic defeat" in the meetings with the Soviet and Chinese Communist leaders at Geneva.

His reply was that "I don't understand what's happened there at Geneva which is alleged to constitute the defeat."

Dulles seemed in good spirits and was chuckling as he gave his reply.

UNEMPLOYED MINERS MARCH ON OTTAWA

OTTAWA (CP)—Parliament Hill's centre block today was picketed by a placard-carrying delegation calling on the federal government for action against unemployment.

About 100 workers marched back and forth across the main entrance to the Parliament building while leaders sought interviews with Prime Minister St. Laurent, cabinet ministers and heads of opposition groups.

They were from southern Ontario and the hard-rock mining area around Sudbury, Ont.

A couple of RCMP constables watched the marchers, without interfering.

Plan Devised to Stop Closing of Fire Hall

City Council 'Cut Cost' Ultimatum Brings City Manager-Union Action

The city fire department's budget may be cut without closing a fire hall.

A new plan to meet city council's "cut, or close" ultimatum to Fire Chief Frank Briers was threshed out this morning at a three-way conference in city hall.

Details were not revealed. The proposals will be laid before the mayor and aldermen Thursday afternoon.

The plan, devised by City Manager Wyatt, Fire Chief Briers, and firemen's union representatives, must reduce the $443,794 budget by $15,000.

Speculation is that three firemen will be dismissed, reducing brigade strength to 85; $3,700 worth of new equipment will be foregone, and the firemen will give up, for this year, their right to new $6,500 worth of issue clothing.

Council ordered the $15,000 cut because a conciliation board award boosted firemen's wages $14,205.

Council argued for an hour Tuesday afternoon about the fire department budget before ordering City Manager Cecil Wyatt and Fire Chief Frank Briers to bring in a recommendation.

Fire Chief Briers pleaded against cutting the force. He said the department was operating now on "a bare minimum" and was "far below" the standard recommended by B.C. Fire Underwriters.

MAYOR'S VIEWS

The mayor declared: "I think there ought to be a reduction so far as men are concerned."

He felt that since the men had brought about the increased expense by asking for higher wages the way to offset the increase was by reducing their numbers.

"I think it's all wrong. I think it's selfish and as far as I'm concerned I'm against it," he said.

He favored closing the James Bay Hall because "we have certain additional fire-fighting apparatus in the harbor which we didn't have two years ago."

The mayor insisted: "The waterfront is the heart of the city. Surely with this magnificent support in the harbor the fire hall can look after the one or two homes that catch fire. I think we've got too much fire protection. I say cut it off."

Four days of budget-trimming have cut $126,503 from the city's $7,000,000 budget, reducing the indicated tax rate to 54.25 mills.

The provisional rate was 56.5 mills.

Present indications are the 1954 rate will be about 55, a mill below 1953's tax levy.

Budgets of two major departments—fire and police—still are to be finalized.

C.O.L. INDEX UP FIRST TIME IN 6 MONTHS

OTTAWA (BUP)—The cost of living for Canadian city dwellers pushed the consumer price index from 115.5 to 115.6 in March, the Bureau of Statistics reported today.

It was the first increase shown by the cost of living yardstick since last October.

The bureau said it was mainly due to advances in the cost of clothing, household operation and other commodities and services which overbalanced lower food costs.

Fraser Four Feet Off Flow

VANCOUVER (BUP) — The unpredictable Fraser River showed a sharp drop today despite a record snow pack in the coast mountains and authorities expressed new fear that the Fraser Valley was facing its most serious flood threat since 1948.

The level of the river dropped to 3.48 feet from 4.65 feet Tuesday, compared to the normal level of about eight feet for this time of year.

Authorities pointed out that the normal spring run-off was being held in the mountains by cool weather and that a sudden turn to hot weather would send water cascading out of control into the main channel.

U.S. 'SPY' EJECTED FROM SENATE PROBE

WASHINGTON (AP)—Capitol police removed from the McCarthy-Army hearings today a spectator who burst into loud laughter during the testimony and thumbed his nose at Senator Joseph McCarthy.

The man, who identified himself as Arthur Perfit of New York, told officers: "I am a spy—a spy for the United States."

GUETTEL SAYS 'WE'LL KEEP COMING'

Big Kamloops Crowd Gives Lie To End of Ballet in Small Cities

'If We're Dead We Won't Lie Down'

Reports of the "death" of the Royal Winnipeg Ballet as far as smaller communities are concerned, appear to be premature.

"If we're dead, we certainly won't lie down," Henry Guettel, general manager of the company, said in Victoria today.

Referring to suggestions the RWB would play only larger cities in the future, because of increasing costs, Mr. Guettel said:

"It will be a dark day indeed when top ballet companies can't come into communities the size of Victoria. And much smaller ones, too.

"It might be necessary to cut down a bit, to play in smaller centres. But every effort will always be made to bring ballet to all those communities that want it."

Mr. Guettel pointed out "reasonably good" advance sales are necessary to indicate the community's interest in ballet. "But it will always be our objective to take ballet into small centres," he said.

On Tuesday Ed Mallek, a member of the Kiwanis Club committee in charge of the Ballet's appearances at the Royal Theatre tonight and Thursday, expressed the view the current visit is "definitely the last" of a top-flight company here.

In Mr. Mallek's opinion, ballet in Canada is coming of age, "is maturing," and for that reason smaller centres such as Victoria will be left out in the cold. He said increased costs necessitate booking larger cities for longer periods.

CAN BE DONE

Mr. Guettel agreed that rising costs present a tremendous problem. "We are in the red, and we need financial help," he said. "But it is possible to make a successful tour of smaller centres."

He referred to the Royal Winnipeg Ballet's recent tour of the United States, in which all but two of 35 one-night stands were in small communities.

In the five week's tour, the company took only two days off, and presented performances on all the other days. "Thus we were able to make a few dollars on the tour," he said.

Prior to arriving here, the company played to a capacity audience in Kamloops, and made money there. The current western Canadian tour, he believes, will end " in the black," because of the great number of bookings.

"Where ballet is going in the future, nobody knows," he admitted. "Artistically and institutionally, the Royal Winnipeg Ballet is on the ascendence. We have had great critical and public encouragement. We have had no financial aid from civic or provincial governments, and so far have been supported by many small donations, mainly from Winnipeg."

IT'S 'NOW OR NEVER' FOR U.S. ON SEAWAY

WASHINGTON (AP)—The United States House of Representatives opens debate today on the first St. Lawrence seaway bill to reach its floor in the nearly 20 years the international project has been proposed in legislation.

The U.S. Senate has already passed the measure which would authorize U.S. participation with Canada.

House leaders have called for a vote on the proposal Thursday, and the tally will amount to a "now or never" decision as far as U.S. participation is concerned.

Canada has officially stated that she will build the seaway by herself on the Canadian side of the St. Lawrence if the U.S. legislation fails in Congress this year.

Attempted Paraguay Army Coup Frustrated

BUENOS AIRES (CP) — An attempted military coup in Paraguay today was frustrated, an Asuncion radio report said.

Reports from persons arriving in Argentina today from Asuncion said the presidential cavalry guard rebelled against the government and that the chief of police was killed in a skirmish.

The broadcast said a cavalry division attempted the revolt and that other troops and police had rallied to the defense of the administration.

The broadcast was made by radio Teleco of Asuncion, the capital.

Other advices reached here from Asuncion said rioting had broken out in the city and the government had declared a state of siege throughout the country.

Paraguayan President Federico Chaves, 74, was inaugurated last Aug. 15 for a five-year term. He previously served almost four years of the unexpired term of ousted president Molas Lopez.

Recent political calm had contrasted sharply with the preceding 20-month period which saw four presidents come and go.

The reports of the uprising reached Buenos Aires just four days before Argentine President Juan Peron was scheduled to leave for his second state visit to Paraguay in seven months.

Paraguay and Argentina signed an agreement for an economic union as a result of his visit last October.

TLC Out To Defeat Government

VANCOUVER (CP) — The Vancouver, New Westminster and District Trades and Labor Council has officially launched a campaign to defeat British Columbia's Social Credit government.

A resolution urging organized labor throughout B.C. to establish the "utmost political unity" in opposition to the Social Credit party, so as to bring about their defeat "at the earliest electoral opportunity," was passed by delegates at a TLC meeting Tuesday night.

The resolution said that since Social Credit has ignored labor representations and enacted what it called the "most anti-labor legislation in the history of Canada," the council expresses a complete lack of confidence in the present administration.

Penticton V's Seek World Hockey Trip

VANCOUVER (CP)—Penticton V's now playing in the Allan Cup finals, are planning a bid to take a shot at the world hockey championship.

A request to represent Canada next year in the world hockey championships, wherever they are held, will be entered at the annual meeting of the Canadian Amateur Hockey Association starting here Monday.

Dr. Mel Butler, B.C. Hockey Association president, will enter the bid, well-backed financially.

Penticton radio station CKOK and the Penticton Herald have guaranteed $10,000 to cover players' loss of wages during the two months the team would be away from home.

The proposed tour scheduled would include six weeks of exhibition games and two weeks for the championship tournament.

Maurice Finnerty, the radio station owner, opened the drive to get Penticton the nod for the trip Tuesday.

"I'm sure Penticton hockey fans will subscribe the $10,000 overnight if the V's are chosen," Finnerty said.

"But even if they don't, CKOK and the Penticton Herald are prepared to guarantee that amount."

Air Safety Procedures Up for Review

OTTAWA (BUP) — Trade Minister C. D. Howe told Parliament today that safety procedures of both the Trans-Canada Air Lines and the Royal Canadian Air Force were being reviewed as a result of the April 8 North Star-Harvard collision over Moose Jaw, Sask.

Howe said preliminary reports of investigations into the crash by TCA, the RCAF and the department of transport were in agreement on details of the crash, but that it would take further study of the reports to make final decisions.

The pilots of both aircraft were experienced and both planes were in good mechanical condition with working communications systems. It was apparent, he said, that neither pilot saw the other plane, although both should have been able to do so.

Howe said that the RCAF would pay claims for damages on the ground as the result of the crash, in which 37 persons lost their lives. TCA would pay claims on the lives of the passengers, and RCAF and TCA would later settle accounts between them, Howe said.

Not Guilty Plea

VANCOUVER (BUP)—Salesman Richard John Ford pleaded not guilty to a charge of murder in connection with the death of Grace Irene Hunter when he appeared in Assize Court today.

Ford was charged with performing an abortion of Mrs. Hunter last February 19 which resulted in her death.

Times Newsman on Atlantic Dash By TCA Inaugural Super-Connie

By LESLIE FOX
Managing Editor, The Times

Another milestone in Canada's aviation history will be passed this week-end when Trans-Canada Air Lines puts super-Constellation planes into service on its North Atlantic route.

The first "Super-Connie" will fly from Montreal Sunday morning to inaugurate the service which will cut two hours off the present flying time for the Atlantic hop.

Present plans, weather permitting, are to fly direct from Montreal to London and the hop is expected to establish an official flight record between the two points.

TCA expects to cover the 3,251-mile route in approximately nine hours. Existing official record between New York and London was set in 1937 by a Lockheed Electra, 20 hours and 29 minutes. Faster flights are customary now, of course, but the Sunday flight is to be officially checked by representatives of the Federation Aeronique Internationale, custodian of all official flying records.

FIRST FLIER IS GUEST

Fittingly, TCA has asked Hon. J. A. D. McCurdy, the man who flew the first Canadian plane 46 years ago, to be its honored passenger on the first flight.

Mr. McCurdy and a representative group of Canadian newspaper, magazine, radio and television men will fly to London for a three-day visit, returning to Montreal, May 13.

The next day regular flights will start four times weekly and will operate daily later.

Mr. McCurdy, who later became lieutenant-governor of Nova Scotia, piloted a plane in Canada for the first time at Baddeck, N.S., in 1908. He holds Canadian pilot's license No. 1.

REPLACE NORTH STARS

Trans-Canada now uses Canadian-built North Star skyliners on its trans-Atlantic operations. As the 300 mph "Super-Connies" are delivered from the Lockheed Aircraft Corporation, they will replace the North Stars.

Newsmen from all parts of Canada, including the writer, on Sunday will be aboard the pre-inaugural plane which has a capacity of 54 passengers.

They make up a cross-section of the newspaper, radio and television business from coast to coast.

NEW PLAN THRASHED OUT

FIRE HALL CLOSURE MAY BE PREVENTED

City Manager, Union Work Out Proposal

The city fire department's budget may be cut without closing a fire hall.

A new plan to meet city council's "cut, or close" ultimatum to Fire Chief Frank Briers was threshed out this morning at a three-way conference in city hall.

Details were not revealed. The proposals will be laid before the mayor and aldermen Thursday afternoon.

The plan, devised by City Manager Wyatt, Fire Chief Briers, and firemen's union representatives, must reduce the $443,794 budget by $15,000.

Speculation is that three firemen will be dismissed, reducing brigade strength to 85; $3,700 worth of new equipment will be foregone, and the firemen will give up, for this year, their right to new $6,500 worth of issue clothing.

Four days of budget-trimming have cut $126,503 from the city's $7,000,000 budget, reducing the indicated tax rate to 54.25 mills.

The provisional rate was 56.5 mills.

Present indications are the 1954 rate will be about 55, a mill below 1953's tax levy.

Budgets of two major departments—fire and police—still are to be finalized.

Council ordered the $15,000 cut because a conciliation board award boosted firemen's wages $14,205.

Council argued for an hour Tuesday afternoon about the fire department budget before ordering City Manager Cecil Wyatt and Fire Chief Frank Briers to bring in a recommendation.

Fire Chief Briers pleaded against cutting the force. He said the department was operating now on "a bare minimum" and was "far below" the standard recommended by B.C. Fire Underwriters.

The mayor declared: "I think there ought to be a reduction so far as men are concerned."

He felt that since the men had brought about the increased expense by asking for higher wages the way to offset the increase was by reducing their numbers.

"I think it's all wrong. I think it's selfish and as far as I'm concerned I'm against it," he said.

He favored closing the James Bay Hall because "we have certain additional fire-fighting apparatus in the harbor which we didn't have two years ago."

The mayor insisted: "The waterfront is the heart of the city. Surely with this magnificent support in the harbor the fire hall can look after the one or two homes that catch fire. I think we've got too much fire protection. I say cut it off."

UNEMPLOYED MINERS MARCH ON OTTAWA

OTTAWA (CP)—Parliament Hill's centre block today was picketed by a placard-carrying delegation calling on the federal government for action against unemployment.

About 100 workers marched back and forth across the main entrance to the Parliament building while leaders sought interviews with Prime Minister St. Laurent, cabinet ministers and heads of opposition groups.

They were from southern Ontario and the hard-rock mining area around Sudbury, Ont.

A couple of RCMP constables watched the marchers, without interfering.

BURNABY, B.C. (CP)—Frederick Butler, 43, was freed today of a charge of murder.

He was charged with the death of 26-year-old James Iverson, described as an "uninvited guest" who invaded a party at Butler's home April 17.

Iverson was struck on the head with an air rifle when he attempted to force his way into the house after the party. He died in hospital some hours later.

2½c Lb. Loss on Government Butter

OTTAWA (CP)—Agriculture Minister Gardiner announced today that surplus price support butter will be sold to the trade at 55½ cents a pound, a loss of 2½ cents a pound. The butter was bought at 58 cents.

The step will have the affect of moving government-held butter into consumption and making room for government purchases of 1954 butter surplus to demand.

Southeast Asia Pact Under Way Says Eisenhower

Could Have Bearing On Geneva Parley

WASHINGTON (CP) — President Eisenhower said today the proposed southeast Asia security pact now is "in process of formation."

In a statement read to his weekly press conference, the president announced that the countries of the Indo-China area now are "thinking in constructive terms, which include the indispensible concept of collective security."

"Progress in this matter has been considerable and I am convinced that further progress will continue to be made."

The president said the fact that a southeast Asia security arrangement "is in process of formation could have an important bearing upon what happens at Geneva during the Indo-China phase of the conference."

Eisenhower declared his unqualified support for State Secretary Dulles and for Dulles' efforts to form a united front

TLC Out To Defeat Government

VANCOUVER (CP) — The Vancouver, New Westminster and District Trades and Labor Council has officially launched a campaign to defeat British Columbia's Social Credit government.

A resolution urging organized labor throughout B.C. to establish the "utmost political unity" in opposition to the Social Credit party, so as to bring about their defeat "at the earliest electoral opportunity," was passed by delegates at a TLC meeting Tuesday night.

The resolution said that since Social Credit has ignored labor representations and enacted what it called the "most anti-labor legislation in the history of Canada," the council expresses a complete lack of confidence in the present administration.

Fraser Four Feet Off Flow

VANCOUVER (BUP) — The unpredictable Fraser River showed a sharp drop today despite a record snow pack in the coast mountains and authorities expressed new fear that the Fraser Valley was facing its most serious flood threat since 1948.

The level of the river dropped to 3.48 feet from 4.65 feet Tuesday, compared to the normal level of about eight feet for this time of year.

Authorities pointed out that the normal spring run-off was being held in the mountains by cool weather and that a sudden turn to hot weather would send water cascading out of control into the main channel.

Rebels Within 400 Yards of Command Post Of Beleaguered Fortress; Get New Troops

PARIS (UP)—Thirteen of the "fighting fools" came home from Dien Bien Phy today—four blinded; nine amputees.

But one of them said "we are the lucky ones."

He didn't add what everyone knew—that there are many other blinded, other men without limbs in the dank underground dressing stations at Dien Bien Phu.

HANOI, Indo-China (UP)—The Communists poured reinforcements into the blood-soaked valley of Dien Bien Phu today and claimed they were within 400 yards of the fortress' command post.

French officers admitted the Communists were closer to Dien Bien Phu's nerve centre than at any time during the 55-day-old siege.

(Peiping radio claimed today that 10,000 Viet Namese troops fighting alongside the French in Indo-China had surrendered to Ho Chi Minh's forces.)

French spirits received a boost with reports a second American airlift of French reinforcements was en route to Indo-China. The reports originated in Wiesbaden, Germany, Tuesday, and an official in Colombo, Ceylon, said the planes were expected. He did not say when.

Communist shells hammered the fortress throughout the night but they did not renew the human sea assaults that has turned the valley into a

Australia Facing Loss Of Olympic Games in '56

LAUSANNE, Switzerland (UP) — Two generals today joined forces in the "Battle for Melbourne," announcing they would make a last ditch stand at the Olympic meeting in Athens next week to try to take the 1956 games away from Australia and award it to a country which is "willing to respect the Olympic charter."

General Gustav Dyrssen, Swedish member of the International Olympic committee and president of the International Pentathlon Federation, told the delegates meeting at Olympic headquarters here in preparation of the annual congress, that in Athens he will lead the fight for a reassignment of the next Olympics.

Dyrssen was joined by Gen. De Tramont of Belgium, president of the International Equestrian Federation, who declared on behalf of his organization that he would never accept Melbourne as the next Olympic site as long as the Australian government did not lift stringent quarantine regulations which practically prohibit the staging of Olympic equestrian events in Australia.
